Persistent Lincolnites In Russia Get Off 'Beaten Path'

Lincoln Star Special

Moscow — This group of Lincolnites, along with many other Americans this summer, has been getting the full treatment from Intourist, the Russian travel agency, while visiting Moscow.

Our guide has been a young student at the Moscow Institute of Foreign Languages who can speak English and has been drafted for the summer to take visiting Americans over the various tourist routes in Moscow.

The Lincolnites have hit all the high spots, including Red Square, the Kremlin, and the mausoleum where the embalmed bodies of Lenin and Stalin are displayed to the general public. Other stops have included Moscow University, the giant Russian Economic Achievement Exposition, and the American Exposition in Sokolniki Park.

Points of interest off the beaten tourist paths are not readily available for tourists. But persistence with Intourist does pay off.

Jack Zimmer, Jr., was able to visit with members of the Moscow Radio Club (he's an avid ham radio operator), Lincoln Contractor J. Phillip Mahoney was able to visit a special Russian exhibition of building trades and methods, and Lincoln Dentist Dr. Richard Marshall visited a Russian dental clinic (however, it was a special clinic especially set up to handle foreign visitors). Other requests were met with the standard answer, "It's extremely difficult to arrange," and nothing was done.

The Lincolnites are agreed that Americans at home do not get a true picture of what Moscow is like through the magazines and newspapers. A personal visit is necessary to get the flavor and strength of this great city, so unlike anything in America.

Far and wide great apartment houses are rising all over Moscow, but they are not built to American standards. For instance, fire escapes are a great rarity. There are more autos on the streets and more pedestrians than in any other city the Lincolnites have visited with the exception of Paris. Everyone in Moscow is busy. The Russians have announced they will overtake the United States and they are working very hard to accomplish that goal.

However, the Soviet Union has a long way to go. The Russians still are probably the worst dressed people in Europe. The women generally wear shapeless dresses of some kind of flower print. The men wear dull looking suits of heavy weave which generally look as if they were made for someone five sizes larger.

The consumer goods on display at G.U.M., the largest department store in the Soviet Union, would attract few if any American buyers. The goods are shoddy and highly overpriced. A pair of cheap shoes costs about 150 rubles, which is more than $35 at the current rate of exchange and nearly one-fourth of the monthly salary of the average Soviet worker. In the Soviet Union the law of supply and demand works this way: If a consumer item is scarce, the price is simply raised to the point where few can afford to buy it. There is no evidence that any attempt is made to fulfill the demand.

Entertainment is scarce in Moscow. There are no nightclubs or cabarets, few beaches or swimming pools, few tennis courts, and the favorite evening pastime is strolling in the parks or hanging around the Metro or subway stations drinking fruit-flavored soda water which is sold everywhere.

The Lincoln group was housed in the Hotel Ukraine, which is one of Moscow's first-class hotels situated on the banks of the Moscow River. The Ukraine is a massive structure 30 stories high with wings on either side.

Employes swarm everywhere, but inefficiency is the order of the day. Above the ninth floor, there is seldom hot water and sometimes no water, at all. There are four banks of elevators, but only two of them are working. There are three restaurants and one cafe in the building, but the service is poor and the food is heavy although

IKE CALLS FOR LABOR CLEANUP

Plea Carried To U.S. People

Corruption, Racketeering Called National Disgrace

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower took to the people Thursday night a demand that Congress pass a law to drive "the gangsters, racketeers and other corrupt elements" out of the labor-management field.

Corruption, racketeering and abuse of power which have been brought to light constitute a national disgrace, he declared.

In a 15-minute appeal for "truly effective" labor legislation prepared for nationwide radio and television broadcast, Eisenhower bid strongly for public support of his effort to persuade the House to pass a labor bill to his specifications.

"It is my earnest hope that Congress will be fully responsive tc an overwhelming national demand," he told the nation.

"As the Congress prepares to vote on labor reform," he said, the question before the people is whether they shall continue to govern themselves. "If they do not, crooks and racketeers could prevail," he said.

AFL-CIO President George Meany pleaded in a speech for nationwide radio broadcast a few hours later for passage of legislation aimed at "getting rid of the crooks, instead of getting rid of the unions."

Republicans counted on Eisenhower's appeal to swing victory their way in the labor battle scheduled to start in the House next Tuesday.

Democrats were hopeful that the President's entry into the labor fight would consolidate their divided ranks behind what they regard as a more moderate measure drafted by the House Labor Committee.

There are sharp divisions within Congress, which to a degree cut across party lines, on the form which new labor legislation should take.

Democratic leaders have made it plain they did not intend to be guided by Eisenhower's views. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the majority leader, in effect invited the President Wednesday to keep hands off and let Congress write a bill. Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) has thrown his support behind the House Labor Committee bill, which Eisenhower Thursday night called ineffective.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) Thursday night accused Eisenhower of making a political issue out of the labor bill and demanded equal time for a Democratic reply.

Mansfield, assistant Senate majority leader, said that the Senate passed 90-1 what he called a good bill aimed at labor racketeers and that the House now is working on the legislation.

"At this point, in a delicate and difficult situation, the President chooses to make a political issue of the matter by going to the people in a nationwide address," he said.

In his talk, Eisenhower backed a bill sponsored by Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga) and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich) which would crack down on secondary boycotts and "blackmail" picketing, and would provide for criminal sanctions against violation of union members' rights.

Meany Assails 'Harm'

Washington (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany said a labor bill backed by President Eisenhower is a "blunderbuss that would inflict grievous harm on all unions" whether they are corrupt or clean.

At the same time, Meany pleaded for passage of a rival bill which he aid is aimed at "getting rid of crooks, instead of getting rid of unions."

He declared the giant federation in complete accord "with the great majority of the American people in favor of legislation that will help get the crooks without harassing and impeding the forward progress of legitimate . . . unions."

The AFL-CIO chief took this stand in a radio speech prepared for broadcast about two hours after Eisenhower told a nationwide radio-TV audience the bill strongly opposed by organized labor would provide "a good start toward a real labor reform bill."

The fight over labor control legislation is building up to a climax next week when the House will consider 3 main proposals. All are patterned after a version already passed by the Senate. But they differ in degree.

Posters Spread Kidnap Search Across Nation

. . . CHILD IDENTIFIES NOBLE AS ASSAILANT

By Del Harding

Fifteen hundred "wanted" posters with the description and photo of kidnap-rape suspect Harlan Lynn Noble were printed Thursday and Police Chief Joe Carroll said they will be sent to lawmen throughout the country.

Carroll said copies of the posters also are being given to tavern operators, rooming house managers and other persons in Lincoln who might have occasion to see the 47-year-old mental hospital escapee if he has not already left town.

Carroll said police still have not uncovered any definite information on whether Noble is still in Lincoln or has left as he reportedly told several persons he planned to do.

Police continued to watch highways, the airport and bus and train depots.

Noble's victim, 6-year-old Theresa Dowding of 902 No. 22nd, identified Noble as her assailant Thursday morning from photographs shown her by Policewoman Hulda Roper.

Mrs. Roper said Theresa said "That's the man" when she viewed the pictures. She said Theresa told her she wants to hurry and get out of the hospital so she can help catch Noble.

The child is expected to be released from the hospital Saturday, Mrs. Roper said.

Twenty Lincoln police officers are working 16-hour shifts in the search for Noble, and the rest of the force plus deputy sheriffs and Safety Patrolmen also are on the case.

Charges of kidnapping, forcible rape and sodomy were filed against Noble Wednesday evening by Co. Atty. Elmer Scheele in connection with Theresa being snatched from her bed and carried away last Saturday night.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation entered the case Thursday afternoon after U.S. Dist. Atty. Tom Scott filed a charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution against Noble in Omaha. Now FBI agents as well as local and state lawmen will join the search.

The last time Noble was reported seen in Lincoln was about noon Wednesday when he stopped by the Valley Ice Co. at 6th and J and chatted with an employe, John Chance of 2122 O.

Chance said Noble had applied for a job last week but had been turned down. He said Noble stopped by Wednesday for about 5 minutes and talked about "how everyone nowadays wants to live and travel fast" and then left.

He said Noble was wearing dark green work clothes and was clean-shaven. He said Noble did not appear nervous.

Noble escaped from the mental hospital at Larned, Kan., early the morning of June 3rd and he checked into the DLD Hotel at 112 So. 17th the next day. How he got to Lincoln has not been determined.

He moved to the Tower Apartments at 1937 F about July 4th but checked out of his room there Tuesday evening, saying he was leaving the state because his job was finished.

Noble was found to have been employed with a crew tearing down the old Trinity Lutheran Church at 13th and H.

Chief Carroll said Noble was convicted of the kidnap-rape of a 6-year-old Leavenworth, Kan., girl in 1952 and sentenced to a 62-year prison term. Earlier it was reported the term was for 99 years.

HARLAN NOBLE . . . charged in child assault.

Noble was transferred to the mental hospital in 1956.

When convicted in Leavenworth he was wanted for questioning in other kidnap-rape cases involving young girls in Atchison, Kan., St. Joseph, Mo., and Kansas City, Mo.

Noble's criminal record goes back to 1929 and shows sex offenses ranging from sodomy to rape.

WANTED SUSPECT DESCRIBED

The following description of kidnap-rape suspect Harlan Lynn Noble is being circulated throughout the country. Anyone believing they may have seen him is urged to phone Police Chief Joe Carroll at 2-2841.

Noble is 47, having been born Christmas Day, 1911, in Switzerland. He reportedly has a slight accent. He has used aliases of "Daniel Boyd," "Luther Boyd" and "Lynn Ashby."

He is 5-9 or 5-10 in height, weighs between 140 and 150 pounds, has brown hair and brown eyes. His teeth reportedly are stained and have spaces between them. He is of medium complexion.

Noble has worked as a mechanic and a laborer.

He was last seen in Lincoln Wednesday and was wearing a dark green shirt and trousers of uniform type. He also has been seen wearing a long-sleeved white shirt and blue slacks.

Police posters describe him as a "sex maniac" and he has a long history of molesting children of both sexes.

Highway Plan Gives State $13.2 Million

. . . Proposal Restores $10 Million

By Betty Person

If the House Public Works Committee's recommendation for only a slight cutback in Interstate Highway construction should be adopted, Nebraska would receive $13.2 million in federal funds, nearly $10 million more than under the House Ways and Means Committee proposal.

State Engineer R. L. Cochran, noting that Nebraska originally was slated to receive $15 million for fiscal 1961, said Thursday the $13.2 million would allow the state to go ahead on nearly the same level.

Stating that he hoped the Public Works Committee plan would "prevail," Cochran said, "On the face of it, it looks like we could live with this very well."

The state engineer received a telegram from A. E. Johnson in Washington, executive secretary of the American Association of State Highway Officials, telling of the Public Works Committee's rejection of the Ways and Means Committee plan.

It calls for continuing the Interstate Highway program on an annual $2.2 billion basis, which is $300 million less than the original financing plan.

The Public Works plan is the one "approved by the state highway departments at Chicago last Saturday," Johnson said, referring to the special meeting called last week and attended by Nebraska officials.

The Public Works Committee plan makes no mention, however, of how its recommendation would be financed and leaves it to the Ways and Means Committee which will take up the matter next Monday.

Robert Conrad, administrative assistant to Gov. Ralph Brooks, viewed the new House committee action as "an outgrowth of the resolution adopted by the nation's governors at the conference at Puerto Rico."

COOLER AIR TO MOVE IN

Generally fair weather with cooler temperatures throughout most of the state are predicted for Nebraska Friday.

Widely scattered thundershowers are expected to reach the extreme west by Friday night preceded by warmer temperatures in the northwest half of the state.

Highs generally will be in the 80s.

Although Lincolnites complained about the heat Thursday, the high temperature was only 86; it was accompanied by humidity of 61% which had dropped considerably from the early morning 90%.

Wholesalers Still Lacking Polio Vaccine

There is no polio vaccine at the two Lincoln wholesale supply houses and at the present time no vaccine is expected to arrive in the Lincoln area until the middle of September.

This is the report made by Morris Siegel, local president of the National Foundation. Because the surgeon general's office has ordered pharmaceutical supply houses to direct all vaccine to epidemic areas, all Lincoln wholesale drug houses have been cut off and have not received vaccine for two weeks.

Siegel said Nebraska is not yet considered an epidemic area.

$1.4 MILLION BOOST SET FOR SCHOOLS

The Lincoln Board of Education Thursday adopted a 1959-60 budget which totaled $1,141,631 more than last year's figure. An estimated increase of 1.5 mills over last year's school levy is in sight. See story on Page 6.

Salad Tosser Takes TV Job On A Dare

Boston (AP)—"I dare you!"

That was the challenge a television salesman issued from behind locked doors of his store to Fred Forresta, 42, when he complained his TV set was a dud and wanted to get in to discuss it.

Crash — went the set through the plate glass door window as Forresta, a salad tosser in a north end restaurant, made a perfect pitch.

Nothing But Trouble

"Ever since I got the set, I've had nothing but trouble with it," said Forresta. "I've had more TV repairmen look at it than I can remember, and a few of them told me it was no good and I should return it and get a new one."

Forresta arrived at the store after close of business. The salesman was inside. Forresta said the salesman wouldn't let him in, although he had talked earlier with the owner. "This set is no good and I want to leave it here and get another one," Forresta said he shouted through the locked door.

But the salesman and Forresta weren't tuned to the same channel.

"It's your set and we don't want it," Forresta quoted the salesman as shouting back.

"I've got a good mind to throw it at you," Forresta replied.

"I dare you," the salesman yelled, and then repeated the taunt twice.

On the third go round, Forresta accepted.

A sympathetic group gathered—applauding when they heard Forresta's explanation. They apparently had had TV set troubles of their own.

Puzzled police didn't know what to do. They decided to await a complaint of the owner — but none was forthcoming.

Nikita May See SAC In Omaha

From Press Dispatches

Washington — Sec. of Defense Neil McElroy Thursday said he would welcome a chance to show Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev some U.S. military bases—but he hesitated when asked if this might include Strategic Air Command headquarters at Omaha, Neb.

September 15 was set definitely Thursday as the date for Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's arrival in the United States for a two-week visit.

State department officials said Khrushchev will come to Washington first. After 3 days in the capital, during which he will talk with President Eisenhower and other high officials, the Soviet leader will set out on a 10-day tour of the country.

The itinerary for the cross-country tour is still being worked out with the Soviet embassy.

Prevent 'Miscalculation'

McElroy said it would be constructive for Khrushchev to see some U.S. military bases while he is here. He suggested this might prevent any miscalculation about U.S. military strength.

McElroy said he would be glad to escort Khrushchev through certain installations, including the big missile launching base at Cape Canaveral, Fla., when the Kremlin boss comes here next month.

But McElroy hesitated when asked whether Khrushchev should be taken to headquarters of the Strategic Air Command at Omaha where all the 2,000 atomic bombers of this country are controlled.

Not Saying No

"I would have to consider SAC headquarters," McElroy said. "I'm not saying I would not, but I would not show him everything there. You can be sure of that."

With the Soviet premier's arrival now firmly fixed for less than 6 weeks in the future, there appeared to be a sudden and calculated lull in one of Washington's favorite pastimes — beating communist leaders over the head with verbal ball bats.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon set the tone on his return from a good will trip behind the Iron Curtain. Nixon urged a courteous reception for Khrushchev "in the interests of the peace with justice that we all want."

Herter Blames Reds For Geneva Failure

Americans Negotiated In Good Faith

. . . Returns To U.S.

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter returned from Geneva Thursday, blaming the Russians for the failure of the foreign ministers conference on Germany.

"We negotiated earnestly in good faith," Herter said. "The Soviet Union, however, pursued an objective that made successful negotiations impossible."

A military jetliner brought Herter and his aides from Geneva. It landed at Andrews Air Force Base at 4:14 p.m. (EDT). Herter hurried to nearby Washington for an appointment with President Eisenhower.

Herter was asked whether Eisenhower's forthcoming talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev will solve the problems which the foreign ministers were unable to settle in 10 fruitless weeks at Geneva. He replied:

"I hope so. I don't know."

He said the Soviet goal which made agreement impossible at Geneva was the Kremlin's aim "to ease the Western powers out of West Berlin as quickly as possible."

Herter reaffirmed the Western stand against giving up Allied rights in the Communist-encircled city.

He did say, however, that the lengthy Geneva talks had lessened the sharpness of the Berlin crisis and brought about a narrowing of differences on some points.

The parley adjourned indefinitely Wednesday without agreement except on a sparsely-worded communique.

A Breather

Geneva (AP) — The Big 4 foreign ministers left for home Thursday with the West convinced the wrangling, 10-week conference at least won a breathing space for the 2¼ million residents of West Berlin.

Andrei A. Gromyko, the Soviet foreign minister, departed with a statement that the international climate "is getting markedly warmer and better."

The 3 Western ministers—Selwyn Lloyd of Britain, Maurice Couve de Murville of France and Christian A. Herter of the United States — left town believing the threat to Berlin had been eased if not wiped out.

LINCOLNITES TOUR RUSSIA

most of it is quite palatable to Americans.

Tourists in Moscow are permitted to roam about the city at will, if they can persuade Intourist that no more tours are wanted. Sometimes you must be very firm. Those who do wander about the city, using the fine bus system and superb subways, find the people of Moscow are genuinely friendly to Americans. The Muscovites will go out of their way to help. If any American is standing at a taxi station waiting for a cab, he will be offered the first taxi which arrives. Americans are hustled to the head of the line waiting to visit the Lenin-Stalin mausoleum and no one objects although most of the Russians have been standing in line all day.

Americans who have thought to bring along such items as ball-point pens, bubble gum or jazz records are extremely popular with Russians.

The American Exposition at Sokolniki Park is a solid hit in Moscow. The tickets are controlled by the Russians and admission to the grounds is in the hands of the Moscow police, called Militia. The Lincolnites toured the grounds and everywhere saw thousands of Russians gaping at exhibits of cars, household items, colored television, and farm machinery.

The exposition shows signs of being slapped together in a great hurry, but the Russians don't mind. The Muscovites shuffle through the grounds looking at everything, touching everything, and drinking free Pepsi-Cola. They watch the movies of life in America shown on seven screens in the huge geodesic-domed main pavlion.

Outside, thousands more wait. They have no tickets, but seem hopeful that some miracle might pass and the Militia will admit them. No one seems to know how the tickets are distributed. The American Embassy was allotted 300, and no more. Everywhere Americans are stopped on the streets and asked for tickets, but they have none to give. It was just at the end of July that tickets went on sale to the Russian public at the park.

These are just a few of the high points of the Lincolnites' visit to Moscow. All agreed that Lincoln is a much better place to live, but that a first-hand glimpse of life inside the Soviet Union has given them a much greater appreciation of the drive and strength in these Russian people who are trying so hard to bring their country up to modern standards.

The sight of the Stars and Stripes and the Red flag of Communism flying side by side at Sokolniki Park is not a particularly pleasing one to an American, but it does show that people on both sides are making an effort to defeat the purposes of Khruschev & Co.

Obbink Hits Scottsbluff Service Cut

State Director of Aeronautics Jack D. Obbink Thursday said he is in "complete disagreement" with Frontier Airlines' decision to drop Convair service through Scottsbluff from its Sept. 1 schedule.

"The town was a part of the central route in the 7-states case and they were promised Convair service," Obbink said, following a day-long meeting with Frontier representative J. Dan Brock, vice president of traffic and sales.

Scottsbluff Chamber of Commerce Manager Paul Harm gave notice that Scottsbluff will "go to Washington" unless Frontier reverts back to the original schedule.

Brock said the decision was made in accordance with an over-all readjustment of schedules in Nebraska "to better serve the needs of the state" and also due to an equipment shortage.

The flight will continue to operate from Omaha to Denver, without stopping at Scottsbluff, Brock said. The town is now left with two planes, one of which stops at North Platte.

Obbink said the service does not comply with Civil Aeronautics Board orders in the 7-States case. He said Scottsbluff had been served by United Airlines Convairs and had been promised the same type of service by Frontier. He said he will "pursue" the matter through whatever channels he deems necessary."

Obbink announced Thursday Frontier will add a second round-trip flight on the Omaha-Casper, Wyo. route. State Aeronautics Commission Atty. Rush C. Clarke said this "represents a great victory" for Nebraska.

Happy

Obbink said, however, he is happy about Frontier's decision to provide two round trips through the northern Nebraska route. He also said Brock's announcement of a "hard sell" promotion campaign to double passenger traffic during the coming year is "fine news for Nebraska."

The new schedule will also add a non-stop flight from Lincoln to Kansas City and restore a morning stop at Beatrice.

State Bank Deposits Increase $55 Million

. . . Over June Of 1958

By Betty Person

Resources of Nebraska's 295 state banks were up nearly $60 million in June of this year, compared with those reported in the June, 1958 bank call, Deputy State Banking Director C. R. Haines reported Thursday.

Resources of the banks totaled $526,906,743 as of June 10 this year, compared with $467,411,646 as of June 23 last year, an increase of $59,495,096.

An indication of the good bond market was reflected in the $24.2 million increase in U.S. Government bonds, Haines said, with the June total reaching $195,820,561.

Seasonal farm loans were credited with the $24.4 million increase in loans and discounts which totaled $213,181,435 in the 295 state banks on the June date.

Up $55 Million

Deposits totaled $471,421,079, an increase of some $55 million over the comparable period last year.

Demand deposits were up some $42 million, and time deposits gained $9 million over last year.

The time deposit hike "might be traceable to increased interest rates now being offered by more state banks," Haines said.

The banking official also noted the ratio of total capital to total deposits in the banks.

Total capital accounts of $51,525,788, compared with the $471,421,079 in deposits, means a ratio of 10.9% which Haines described as "good."

Assessors Won't Fight Lancaster

The County Assessors Association of Nebraska has decided not to appeal to the State Supreme Court on the State Board of Equalization's action concerning Lancaster County valuations.

The association had voiced strong objections to the state board's approval of valuation reductions ordered by the Lancaster County Board on household goods, farm machinery and business schedules below valuations recommended by the association.

Washington County Assessor Earl Long, president of the state-wide county assessors group, said the association would dicuss the matter of future action in the case at its annual meeting which will be held at Scottsbluff in October.

Only Recourse

Long said the only real recourse the association has is an appeal to the courts.

Long and other association officials conferred Wednesday with Robert Conrad, administrative assistant to Gov. Ralph Brooks, who told them the governor's views on the matter.

Conrad said Brooks would give the assessors' valuation guide full support in 1960 assessments and before the State Board of Equalization.

Long said the association's board of directors was polled by telephone Thursday prior to the decision not to appeal.

Lincolnites Tax Bill To Jump $2.26

The 1959 tax bill of Lincoln property owners now totals an estimated increase of $2.26 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

The School District adopted a $10.3 million budget Thursday requiring an estimated levy increase of 1.5 mills.

The school levy, plus those for the county and the state institutions, is to be officially set Friday by the County Board.

So far, only the city and county have tentative levies under 1958 requirements. The city levy will not be set until about Aug. 25 following a public hearing scheduled for Aug. 14.

While the tentative city levy is one-third mill less than last year, the City Council can make adjustments in the budget before final adoption.

The estimated tax bill per $1,000 assessed valuation:

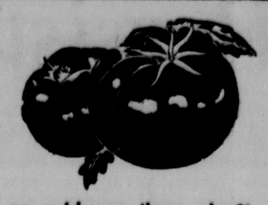
THE CASE of the LOVELY TOMATOES

by Early Standby Gardener
published by BEECHNERS for those who would know



Recently I went snooping (shopping) and with both eyes open (my private eye was not needed) and found that although these tomatoes had not been pinched that they bore marks of very high pricing. I found tubes priced as much as ten cents higher than Beechners regular price (many other items also had rigged prices (more than a normal profit.)

I take this as evidence (how else?) that unwary customers do pay for loss leaders (sales bait) trading stamps and the like. Knowing that nothing is free, I like Beechners policy of a low mark up (profit) on each and every item for then a low total food bill is possible—and I find mine is lower at Beechners. Keep your eyes peeled—there will be more tomatoes.

Two Airport Plans Expected To Draw Fire At Friday's Open Hearing

By Virgil Falloon

The City Airport Authority's public hearing Friday on the two proposed airport plans is expected to draw wide representation of aviation and civic interests.

Purpose of this important meeting, beginning at 2 p.m. in City Hall, is see whether Lincoln wants a municipal airport east of the city, estimated to cost $4,180,444 for its first stage, or a municipal runway and additional facilities at the Lincoln Air Force Base, comparably estimated to cost $3,755,702.

The hearing is expected to be lengthy and produce definite factions for both plans.

The 5-member Authority must decide on one plan soon if application for federal airport funds is to be made by the Aug. 19 deadline.

While the Authority majority appeared to have favored the second-runway plan earlier, it is believed there has been some shift in opinion in the past several days.

Both the Strategic Air Command and Second Air Force have reported no objections to the second-runway plan, subject to final approval by the U.S. Air Force and Federal Aviation Agency.

Latest cost figures show the LAFB runway plan with federal aid would cost the city $2,223,911 based on construction estimates. Only $692,120 worth of items would not be eligible for federal matching funds.

Cost City $433,000 More

In comparison, the new municipal airport plan would cost the city $2,657,348 with federal aid, or approximately $433,000 more. In the new airport plan are some $1,134,242 items not eligible for federal funds.

It is reported that some $200,000 in state funds might be available to Lincoln for either plan.

Also a possibility in the LAFB runway plan is a $500,000 saving if the city could acquire the former Nebraska Air National Guard hangar now being used by the Air Force.

So far, the Air Force has turned thumbs down on the idea, but several sources say there are "horse-trading possibilities" with city-owned property in which the base has expressed interest.

Aside from the construction costs involving the two plans, sources point out that the new airport would be 10 miles from the downtown business district, while the LAFB runway plan would provide facilities only 4 miles away and on Interstate Highway access routes.

Objections also are expected from Lincoln residents to an airfield on the eastern fringes of the city.

Industrials and business interests are expected to split as to which site would be most advantageous.

Compromise Idea

A suggested compromise idea between the two proposals has been development of the second-runway plan for commercial airline traffic, larger executive aircraft and a modest east airport for private aircraft.

Mayor Pat Boyles, who will attend the Friday hearing, said he is "not entirely convinced that we need either plan."

"But," he added, "the second runway is my preference if we must have one or the other."

Hay Fever Season Hits; Relief Steps Suggested

By Margrethe Plum

Hay fever sufferers and those sensitive to ragweed pollen: the inflamed-nose-inflamed-eyes season is here again.

According to Dr. George Underwood, director of the city-county health department, the hay fever season started in July while the first of August marked the beginning of the period when ragweed pollen causes discomfort.

Dr. Underwood has several suggestions which can lessen the discomfort of the hay fever-ragweed pollen season:

—stay away from pollen in the air.

—keep foreign matter out of the nose.

—stay away from fans, breezes, winds and automobile rides.

More Discomfort

The more air that gets past the nose, the more hay fever there is present. Swimming, according to Dr. Underwood, can increase the discomfort.

Contrary to popular belief, Nebraska is not a state that sports a high concentration of ragweed pollen, but it does have an ample supply of water hemp and Russian thistle pollen to offer eye and nose trouble.

Daniel W. Lynch, Manager of the Allergens and Pollens Department of the Abbott Laboratories, North Chicago, Ill., suggests that hay fever sufferers plan a vacation in one of the refuge areas where pollen index is low. These areas include northern Minnesota, Michigan, New Hampshire and Maine the southern tip of Florida and the Pacific coast.

Other Methods

For those who feel this type of relief is a luxury beyond their means, there are other relief methods that are less expensive.

Immunization against hay fever offers satisfactory relief in about 8 or 10 cases when treatment is begun prior to the onset of the pollen season.

Air filter systems at home and in offices will take the irritating pollen out of the air and will relieve the hay fever sufferer temporarily.

Dr. Underwood came up with the most pleasant solution to the problem: live in air-conditioned comfort 24 hours a day throughout the hay-fever months.

'Credit Co-Op At Ericson Must Close'

. . . Banking Director

State Banking Director E. N. Van Horne said Thursday night he had ordered the Ericson Co-operative Credit Association in Wheeler County closed. The order was effective at noon Thursday.

Van Horne said examinations made by his department revealed some irregularities on the part of the management which, he said, have been admitted. The audit has not been completed, Van Horne said.

Van Horne said it had not been determined just how much shortage of funds there is.

The closing leaves Wheeler County without a banking institution. The Bartlett bank was closed May 14 because of shortages of over $170,000.

The Ericson co-operatives board of directors is composed of Keith Poland, president; C. F. Foster, secretary-treasurer, and L. J. Walters, Lloyd Patrick and Pete Dahlsteen.

FREDERICK MUELLER

Senate OKs Nomination Of Mueller

Washington (AP)—The Senate, by voice vote and with no objections, confirmed the nomination of Frederick H. Mueller to be Secretary of Commerce.

He thus succeeded to the post which the Senate balked at being filled by Lewis L. Strauss, former head of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Mueller, 65, used to manufacture furniture in Grand Rapids, Mich. He first joined the Commerce Department in 1955 and last June 4 was confirmed by the Senate as under secretary.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash), the Commerce Committee chairman, told the Senate he is confident Mueller will be an excellent secretary.

He said that Mueller had made a very favorable impression on the committee—a comment in which Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) joined.

Study Checks Housing For Minorities

. . . Results Compiled

Final results of Lincoln's first Minority Group Housing Survey are being compiled by Project Director James L. McCartney, and await the approval of the members of his supervising committee.

The committee, which includes Dr. Alan Bates and Dr. Edward Palmer of the University of Nebraska, Dr. Glenn Callan of Wesleyan University, and Dr. R. K. Nelson of Union College, will review the report, and with recommendations turn it over to the Mayor's Council on Human Relations.

McCartney said results will probably be available late in September.

Interviewers questioned 511 families to get an over-all picture of minority group housing conditions in Lincoln. McCartney termed the survey a success. Only 8 families refused questioning.

He said he felt the cooperation was largely due to the good coverage by the press, the contacts made by Negro leaders, and the letter which was sent by the mayor to each family to be interviewed.

Real estate agencies and loan companies were also contacted as to their experiences in dealing with non-white families in Lincoln.

Billion Dollar Extravaganza

Steel, the magazine of the industry by that name, has computed the loss thus far entailed in the current strike.

It said the steel industry had lost $558 million in sales due to non-production. Steel labor has lost $208 million in wages. The federal treasury has lost $100 million in taxes.

The magazine did not attempt to compute secondary losses in non-steel fields, such as work slowdowns for lack of steel, inactivity of service agencies depending upon generally full production, and the like. But if these could be pinpointed and evaluated they could run to a greater figure than the combination of primary losses.

In any event the steel impasse is well on its way to becoming a billion dollar extravaganza and unless it starts moving toward some real settlement soon it will sail swiftly above that figure.

Under such circumstances it is perplexing to account for the government's continued reluctance to apply the strictures of the Taft Hartley Act. It is especially so in the light of the indifference of both the steel companies and the union to sit down to hard and earnest bargaining. These people have a broader responsibility than that of protecting their partisan interests. And it is a questionable public attitude that stands otherwise. It might be pleaded that such interests are guaranteed by the Constitution, but it is a fact that that often loosely interpreted guarantee has a qualifying condition. The exercise of such liberties are only granted to the point that they begin infringing on the liberties of others.

Worth Pondering

This week in Philadelphia just after 150 occupants of an old people's home assembled in a crowded dining room for breakfast, a madman, barricaded in his next door home, fired charge after charge from his shotgun through the shattered windows of the room into the bodies of the terrorized diners.

Before the police could end the murderous drama he killed two persons and seriously wounded four others.

The story cast a cloud over the emotions of the nation's readers. It was wanton, senseless slaughter of innocents.

In the relating, the story carried the too frequently appearing paragraph. The madman had earlier sent wild letters to the President and had been committed to an insane asylum. But asylum officials had decreed him not dangerous and had released him.

Concurrently with the Philadelphia story, Lincoln residents were reacting to the story of a ghastly sex crime against an innocent six-year-old girl. Police attributed the attack to a sex maniac, against whom charges have been filed and pursuit is underway.

It is not proper here to say that the suspect is guilty. That is a matter for the law and the evidence. But it is to the point to note that the suspect has a continuing record of crime, has received sentences aggregating 109 years in prison for sex outrages committed since 1941. Of the 109 years he has served nine. He gained his liberty most recently when he cut his way out of a Kansas insane asylum where restraint of him was inadequate.

Much is said now-a-days of the virtues of criminal rehabilitation and enlightened therapy to which all agree within reason. But not nearly enough is said about the unreality and downright danger to society of operating mental institutions as a sieve through which unhealed maniacs pass almost at convenience, ultimately to perpetrate horrible crimes against fresh victims. One asks what is humane and enlightened about that?

Some Things To Clear Up

The State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics released its summary of agricultural prices as they shaped up July 15.

It said: "The Nebraska all-farm commodity index declined for the fourth straight month and now is 253, 7 points below last month and 30 points under a year ago . . . the decline from mid-June resulted from lower hog and feed grain prices . . . the average price of hogs declined sharply to $12.80 per cwt . . . in mid-June 1958 the average price was $21.70."

The report goes on to say that the price the producer is receiving for feed grains has declined, but the price he pays for processed feed has gone up.

Beyond a few unplanned, temporary exceptions, this is the bleak character of economic reports read to Nebraska farmers since the Eisenhower-Benson team of farm program manipulators took over in 1952—a long period of pulling the chair out from under the farmer in an effort to get the government out from under the problem rather than to treat with it constructively.

When a cool dispassionate history is finally written of the Republican fifties it will not only tell of a curious antipathy for agriculture, but of a persistent and inexplicable chipping away at the foundation of things which are vital factors in Nebraska's economic present and future.

If Nebraska's continued agricultural survival is and will be in spite of the blows of the agricultural administration, so also is and will be its future in public and rural electrical power programs, especially the rural ones. One is not misled by the administration's efforts to run the REA's out of the protective field of federal credit into the arms of private super-finance. It is the financier not the operator who proposes and disposes in the field of private power and it is he would do the same in the presently thrifty field of public power.

Reclamation is a further field in which the administration opposed new starts and grudgingly yields support to projects underway. But reclamation is the main door through which Nebraska can pass to a more vigorous and saving future.

Without a healthy agriculture, reclamation and unfettered public power Nebraska's future is that of a have-not state.

The Republican party in Nebraska has reorganized to regain the political mastery. This is well enough. But before it sells a nickle's worth of its slogans and its goods, a thinking Nebraska will demand an accounting for its past stewardship and something a good deal more than lip service to a future dedicated to these vital factors, without which little if any hopefulness can be expected. Thus far Nebraska has been the Republican party's fall guy.

'Say, What Ever Happened To This Quiz Program?"

Nixon Stalked By Rockefeller

WASHINGTON — Another of Washington's hush-hush dinners recently charted the strategy of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller to capture the presidency in 1960.

This dinner was held, not in the White House, but the Georgetown home of Congressman Perkins Bass of New Hampshire, and was attended by Rockefeller's political lieutenant, New York state GOP Chairman Judson Morhouse. At this private, political, hair-down session, Morhouse made it clear that Rockefeller would be a candidate for president.

Ex-speaker Joe Martin, not Bass, was supposed to be the biggest fish at the affair. Joe has not been an ardent admirer of Vice President Nixon since Nixon joined with Congressman Charlie Halleck to oust Martin as house GOP leader. At the last minute, Martin had to cancel out, but made it clear he will use his considerable influence inside the Republican party to help Rockefeller.

Only House members were invited to the private political powwow, among them Chester Merrow of New Hampshire, John Saylor of Pennsylvania, John Lindsay and Stuyvesant Wainwright of New York.

Morhouse started off by declaring that he was confident Rockefeller would run for president, that his intentions would be made clear late this fall, and that his name would not be withdrawn from the key New Hampshire primary. Morhouse added that Rockefeller might not campaign personally in New Hampshire, but that his campaign would be well-financed. Congressman Bass and Rockefeller incidentally, got to know each other working on Dartmouth affairs. Both are alumni and Rockefeller is a trustee. Bass' father is a former governor of New Hampshire.

The group agreed that Nixon had scored a political bulls-eye on his Russian trip, but questioned how long it would take for the favorable impression to wear off. They recalled that he had come back from being stoned in Venezuela a national hero. Six weeks later, he was slipping again in the popularity polls.

The group expressed conviction that Nixon, whatever his present strength, could never win a national election. They discussed his political drawbacks and even discussed how easy it was for cartoonists to caricature him. His heavy jowls, ski-jump nose and dark beard make him a natural for lampooning cartoonists.

MARQUIS CHILDS

AEC Unfavorable To Nuclear Sharing

WASHINGTON — With virtually no debate in Congress and little discussion in the country, far-reaching agreements providing America's NATO allies with nuclear weapons know-how and equipment have been approved.

It would have taken a resolution by both houses of Congress to reject the agreements submitted by the President. Among a minority there was a deep-seated fear that the agreements would freeze a pattern of nuclear armament throughout the NATO alliance. This would make it impossible in the event of a serious new effort at disarmament to try to work out a nuclear free zone in Central Europe.

Only a few members in the House expressed their doubts. The Joint Committee on Atomic Energy held secret hearings and approved the agreements. At the request of Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee also held a hearing behind closed doors. Despite Humphrey's urging, the testimony was not released even in censored form. And when he ventured to speak about the agreements, Humphrey's approach was a cautious one.

To observers who have watched the constricting coils of secrecy close around areas of great public concern, this seemed another sign that fear and distrust had prevailed over frank discussion of the consequences of providing European allies with know-how and equipment for using nuclear weapons. The next step, it was feared, would be to amend the basic Atomic Energy Act to give them the actual weapons. This cannot be done under present law.

With new members of the nuclear club — whether their card of admission was a gift from the United States or by forging their own initial weapon, as France is doing — the problem of control of testing becomes greater, if not impossible. The nine months of effort to come to an agreement with the Russians at Geneva on the control of nuclear tests has also been shrouded in a secrecy blanket.

Powerful forces principally within the Atomic Energy Commission have sought to frustrate any agreement. The AEC is conducting a costly experiment in a Louisiana salt mine to prove that it will be possible to cheat on any agreement that covers underground as well as atmospheric testing. Eventually this experiment may provide for the moving of a volume of earth equivalent to five to seven football fields —a vast undertaking — to show that a 50-kiloton explosion could be smothered by a process known as decoupling.

A kind of underground debate has gone on within the government itself over the merits and demerits of a comprehensive agreement as compared to one which would ban only atmospheric tests. Because it has far greater resources of money and influence, the AEC has tended to dominate this subterranean debate. Recently Chairman John McCone flew several senators to Geneva to impress them and the public with the AEC viewpoint. The move came as a surprise to the State Department, which is responsible for the position of the American delegation.

While the public is unaware of it, those in government favoring an over-all agreement on testing have been arguing their case, too. This reporter has seen a confidential memorandum which states that the Soviets at Geneva have been forced to make "the vast majority of concessions both of minor and significant consequence in the efforts of both sides to reach common ground."

With the impending visit of Premier Khrushchev, this analysis — the other and largely submerged side of the debate on testing—takes on special importance. When he sits down with President Eisenhower, Khrushchev will not be content to talk friendly generalities. He will want to bring up details of the Geneva discussions and it will be well for the President to be forewarned with not merely one but both sides of the argument.

Khrushchev Is Biggest Gainer

WASHINGTON — Republicans adjourned Congress so they could go to the airport and give Vice President Richard Nixon a hero's welcome. Within hours, Secretary of State Christian Herter dragged in from Geneva where for three weeks he has been sitting on what he knew, of his own knowledge, were china eggs.

The contrast symbolizes the difference between the propaganda aspects of the new moves and their shaky diplomatic underpinnings. Dispatches from Europe emphasize the latter, and the picture they draw of Uncle Sam is not flattering.

For it cannot be concealed that the Soviet Union has won a diplomatic victory at fire-sale prices. Premier Nikita Khrushchev gets the trip to the United States and the attentions from President Eisenhower to which he has so long aspired. The President has abandoned the "substantial progress" conditions he earlier laid down for such a meeting.

All of the foreign ministers at Geneva are in the position of the acrobats who opened the old vaudeville shows. It is held further that they were compelled to warm up the stage for an unconscionably long time, weakening to them personally and debasing to their status. The President's inadvertent reference to Geneva as one of the "much lower levels" at which the plans were developed is widely quoted.

It appears difficult at this point to do much to gild Secretary Herter's role, even if that is recognized as desirable. In the first place, he will unpack only to repack for a hard week of fence-mending in South America.

An appointive and not an elected official, he lacks the resources to come back on his own, even if he had the temperament for it, which he has not. A strong flavor of shadow-boxing was also imparted to the vice president's role when he was described as having been taken into Eisenhower's confidence at the last minute only so he wouldn't accidentally mess things up in Moscow.

Yet with the politician's art, Nixon is managing to stage a triumph at home and win substantial, though by no means universal, approval abroad.

The State Department sees so much work piled up for Herter during the futile weeks at Geneva, it does not expect him to accompany the President to Europe or even play much part in the delicate task of arranging the Khruschev journey across the United States. Members of Congress sympathize with him but cannot help him.

The Eisenhower decisions as such have a wide range of acceptance, ranging from enthusiasm in Great Britain to caution in Italy. Yet even the British are making light of his explanations and describing almost flippantly the course he took prior to crossing the great divide.

It appears that Europe's once complete faith in the soldier-president has been replaced by hope and not too much charity. This is the press preview as he takes up the tasks which lie immediately ahead in Europe and in Russia.

And everywhere the cautionary note is strong: Don't sell Khrushchev short; he is smart and tough.

The Chester Herald Williamses have only recently retired their old job printing press. An ancient product, Mr. W. says it performed long and faithfully over the years with the exception of the occasional "spells" that overcame it.

With all the work involved in replacing a piece of machinery, he got to wondering how the big paper press was moved into the shop.

"The easiest way would have been to place it and then build the building around it, that's certain."

"If he would just take that fifty and spend it on a suitable prospect, he'd be at the altar before he knew what happened."

Ray Stone hit a rare week when two people called the Howells Journal office with complimentary words.

"You many wonder," he told his readers, "why the crabby old editor is ballyhooing because someone said something nice to him."

The unusualness of the situation warranted publicity, he felt, and rightly so. "A little bouquet floors us, as the criticisms far exceed the other kind of remarks that are easy to take."

Skunks are rattlesnakes' natural enemies, and hence the odor of skunk repels the reptiles. Science, whose findings continue to astound, has only recently discovered that a tee-shirt worn for a few days will have the same effect on snakes. Dorothy Miller of the Plainville News says she can believe it, after "gingerly picking up my small son's fourth soiled tee-shirt this week." Sometimes, she sighs, "I feel more like burying than laundering."

Where The Money Is

Lincoln, Neb.

Very recently Lincoln celebrated its centennial and hailed 100 years of progress. In my estimation, they eliminated four very important words — "in the wrong direction!"

Lincoln is a beautiful city, a clean city in which I'd be happy to raise my family. The monthly average income is $300. How can you support a family of five (three children) with the etxraordinary rent for houses and apartments and have any left to save on only $300 per month? How are these young couples buying these $16,000-$20,000 houses here in Lincoln?

Families go where the money is — and certainly there isn't any coming into Lincoln. Industry is the backbone of a city. Lincoln has such wonderful prospects if we'd allow our young men with intelligence and an eye to the future to serve on our City Council and bring industry to Lincoln. Why permit a handful of men who have educated their children, made their money, and are due for retirement hinder industry from entering our city?

We need industry! I'm all for it. I don't want to see Lincoln return to an "old hick town." I want my children to be proud when they say they were raised in Lincoln, Nebraska.

Second Fiddle

Lincoln, Neb.

Our vice president tells the Russian people truly that they are working one day out of four to produce armaments against us. We are working approximately one day out of eight to produce armaments against the Communist bloc. "You get what you pay for."

Secretary of Defense McElroy has just told a congressional committee that the Russians have the intercontinental ballistic missile, something like 10 of them. Doubtless we could have had the missile in working order also if we had been as interested as the Russians. The evidence that has been given to us seems to indicate that the Russians have a definite edge on us in armaments. Also that this margin is being widened in their favor. Dr. Teller, father of the atomic bomb, says that Russia is forging steadily ahead of us in science and in 10 years we will be hopelessly outclassed in this department. It is not necessary to call attention to the fact that education makes scientists and scientists make armaments. In every struggle in history between the nations, power has won the contest. It will doubtless continue to do so.

If we are not sufficiently interested to try to keep ahead of Russia in this race, we had better go along with the pacifists who are trying to stop the whole armament business. To play second fiddle militarily is to be in the most dangerous position possible.

Lincoln Industry

Lincoln, Neb.

The city of Lincoln must have industry whether it wants it or not, to put it on its feet, because it is definitely on its back at the present time. It doesn't take a very smart person to see what is taking place day after day. Just count the vacant store buildings, apartments and homes. Needless to say, the situation is alarming. If something isn't done and done soon to bring industry to Lincoln, just bring in the bulldozers and bury it.

The excuse is that we can't have industry here because it's a university town. Anyone knows the university has nothing to do with it. University students do not associate with the working class. The truth is that if industry is allowed in Lincoln, big business will be compelled to pay their employes a decent wage or lose them to industry. Industry would bring business to all so they could pay better wages.

Nowadays modern factories are clean, gas-heated and beautiful, not dirty and smoky. Two or three nice clean factories would make Lincoln. Working people make any city, not the wealthy because there are not enough wealthy people in Lincoln to support the city.

I agree in some ways with K. C. Rutherford's article in the August 3 Star, but I say, why blame the Democrats? They have been in office only a few short months. Give them time. We'll see what they do for our city. It's a cinch the Republicans did nothing.

Petitions are circulated for everything else. Let's get one out to bring industry to Lincoln and see how many signatures we get. There is always talk about people moving in to Lincoln, but one never hears about the number of people moving out.

Drive down to Millard, Nebraska, and see the beautiful new building Western Electric put up there. It has put Millard on the map and helped Omaha business in a big way.

Descendants Still Live On Lancaster Farm Homesteaded In 1866

It has been 93 years since 1866.

At that time the Civil War had been over for a year; Nebraska still was part of the Louisiana Territory, and J. Fred Egger filed on a homestead 15 miles south of Lincoln, near Hickman.

There is nothing unique about filing on a homestead.

Many people had homesteads in Nebraska, but few of those who chose Lancaster County kept the original site in the family. Mr. Egger did.

And we are wondering if he would have believed that in 1959 his descendents, excepting 3 grandchildren, would be residing in the county.

Legislator

Egger, who died in 1930, served in the Nebraska Legislature from 1924 to 1928, and took an active interest in state government and community affairs.

His 8 children, Rudy, Fred, Emma, Anna, Alta, Edith, Bertha and Hilda, all are living, and 3 of them, Mrs. Bill Etmund (Anna Egger) and Mr. Etmund, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Egger and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mahley (Emma Egger) have celebrated their 50th wedding anniversaries.

Rudy Egger resides in the old family home on the homestead site and is a breeder of shorthorn cattle.

Others

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mahley are residents at 2403 No. 70th, Lincoln and Fred Egger, a retired farmer and dairy man, and Mrs. Egger live at Sprague.

Mr. and Mrs. Etmund call Hickman home, and Edith Egger, now Mrs. Bill Wunderlich, and Mr. Wunderlich, are farming near Lincoln.

Then there are the Brendles, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan, who reside on a farm close to Hickman. Mrs. Brendle is the former Bertha Egger. Mrs. Pat Larson (Hilda Egger) and Mr. Larson and their family are residents of Waverly.

Lincolnites

The name Mrs. Sam Fieselman is a popular one in Lincoln. Mrs. Fieselman, the former Alta Egger, and Mr. Fieselman are Lincoln residents.

The 4 grandchildren residing outside of Lancaster County are Mr. and Mrs. Vernard Egger of Blue Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hoffman, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mahley, who reside in North Platte. Two Wunderlich sons have made their homes elsewhere—Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Wunderlich reside in Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. Deon Wunderlich in Broken Bow.

Grandchildren

The other grandchildren and their families, residing in Lancaster County, include Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Etmund, Mr. and Mrs. Elso Egger, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Egger, and Ross Egger, all of Hickman; Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Egger and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Egger, Sprague; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Schmadeke (she was Mrs. Nebraska in 1956); Mr. and Mrs. Duane Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Brandt, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Wunderlich, and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Mahley, all of Lincoln.

Ike Signs TVA Bill

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower Thursday signed a bill allowing the Tennessee Valley Authority to finance new power plants by issuing up to 750 million dollars in bonds instead of coming to Congress for appropriations.

But while approving this bill, with its new self-financing feature, Eisenhower labeled wholly unacceptable a section which he contended would be "a clear invasion" of the constitutional rights of the President to review programs of executive agencies.

The President said he signed the bill on the understanding Congress would promptly enact legislation to cut out the offending section. This would allow TVA to draft its own construction program for Congress while the President would do little more than send the program to Capitol Hill.

Senate Passes It

Within a short time of Eisenhower's action, the Senate passed a new bill eliminating the section the President opposed. The House already had adjourned for the weekend. But it appeared certain it would follow suit Monday.

The president specifically endorsed 4 main provisions of the bill, which:

1. Authorize TVA to issue up to three-quarters of a billion dollars in bonds to pay for construction of new power plants. The agency says these plants are a must to avert an impending power shortage.
2. Limit future expansion of the TVA power to substantially its present boundaries in the southeast part of the nation.
3. Require TVA to repay, at 3% interest, one billion dollars of the $1,200,000,000 which Congress has voted in 25 years to build TVA power facilities. The repayment period was set at 53 years.

Butchers Union At Scottsbluff Refuses Contract

Scottsbluff, Neb. (AP)—Local 94 of the Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America voted Thursday night to reject contract offers made by Swift and Co. at Chicago. The company operates a plant in Scottsbluff.

Details of the company offer were not made public. There were over 100 votes cast in the local balloting, a part of a national vote by Swift locals.

ROCK 'N' ROLL DANCING IS COMMENDED

By Eddy Gilmore

London (AP) — A British medical journal said Thursday that rock 'n' roll dancing reduces crime.

"Dancing," said the Medical Press, "affords a relatively harmless way of getting rid of surplus energy.

"By so doing, dancing might be said to conduce to lawful and respectable behavior rather than the reverse.

"The more rock and rolling indeed, the less coshing (blackjacking) and knifing as a rule, unless gang rivalry and the tensions it connotes intervene to kindle quite different emotions.

"Anybody who has seen a roomful of rock and rollers in fervid action may be tempted to ask whether people can possibly behave like this and still remain sane."

"The vast majority of dancers, whatever they look like in action, prove as a rule normal and respectable citizens once they have returned to their seats," said medical press.

Sound Barrier Not Only Thing Broken By Jet

Ottawa (AP) — A U.S. Air Force starfighter jet didn't break the sound barrier in a demonstration for the Canadian cabinet. It already had in a costly way.

The supersonic blast broke all the windows on one side of the new 6 million dollar air terminal at Ottawa's Uplands Airport.

The Air Force estimated damage to the terminal at $5,000. But a source in the Department of Transport said the damage bill could go as high as $100,000.

11-Inch Rain Hits Iowa

. . . Ft. Madison Flooded

Fort Madison, Iowa (AP) — A storm that got stalled dumped up to 11 inches of rain on southern Iowa and sent flood waters swirling through large areas of Fort Madison Thursday.

The downpour, measured at 9.42 inches in 6 hours, was termed by a police official as "possibly the worst storm in Fort Madison history."

The torrential rains spread out in a comparatively narrow band across the southern tier of Iowa counties. It appeared certain damage would come to millions of dollars, but no accurate estimates were immediately possible.

At Lineville, which straddles the Missouri-Iowa border 125 miles west of here, a fall of 11.3 inches was measured.

The Weather Bureau in Des Moines said the deluge came from a storm center which "seemed to stall over southern Iowa, instead of moving."

Tons of water coursing down the bluffs which surround this Mississippi River city of 15,000, sent Happy Hollow, French and Dry creeks out of their banks. The creeks meander through the city.

Schools Budget Is Increased $1,141,631

Expected To Cause 1.5 Mill Boost; More Pupils, Higher Costs Cited

By Virgil Falloon

The Lincoln Board of Education adopted a 1959-60 budget of $10,361,430, representing an increase of $1,141,631 over the 1958-59 school budget, at a special meeting Thursday.

While the County Board officailly fixes the school levy, an action expected to be taken Friday, Dr. Steven N. Watkins, superintendent of schools, estimated an increase of 1.5 mills from last year's levy of 42.43 mills.

The School Board requested a levy sufficient to raise $7,786,486 from all taxable property in the district to meet the estimated budget requirements.

Earlier this week, a 2.5-mill increase had been estimated, but school officials said assessed property valuation figures were incomplete when the estimate was made.

During the half-hour session, Dr. Watkins attributed the budget increase to these factors:

—An increase of 1,240 pupils for a predicted 1959-60 enrollment of 23,645. Enrollment since 1950 has increased 80% and will hit 100% by the 1960-61 school year.

—Cost of instruction is up $621,649—including teacher pay raises granted and the anticipated employment of 50 more teachers, of which 43 have already been hired.

—The General Arnold Elementary School in the Lincoln Air Force Base housing area will open this year and will mean increased operation and maintenance cost.

—An increase of $93,899 in capital outlay for 4 new boilers, replacing condemned equipment, and installation of fire detection equipment in 14 schools in line with the new state fire code. (This represents about one-half of the program which will be completed in the 1960-61 fiscal year.)

Dr. Watkins said the estimated general fund expenditures of $8,604,263 represent an increase of $983,980.

Increases in the other funds are capital outlay, $198,613; bond interest, $26,498, and bond sinking, $49,425.

The comparative totals for all funds:

Increases in the other funds are capital outlay, $198,613; bond interest, $26,498, and bond sinking, $49,425.

The comparative totals for all funds:

	1958-59	Proposed 1959-60
Gen. Fund	$7,620,232.85	$8,604,263.68
Cap Outlay	198,613.36	333,337.40
Bond Int.	413,903.04	387,404.14
Bond Sinking	987,000.00	1,036,425.38
Total	$9,219,799.25	$10,361,430.80

The comparative breakdown of the General Fund budget with last year and change is:

Income	1958-59	1959-60	Increase
Bal for'd	$1,076,799	$1,198,333	$121,534
Total inc.	5,965,698	6,520,929	555,231
Expenditures—
Gen. control	133,430	134,724	1,294
Instruction	5,344,141	5,965,790	621,649
Operation	792,645	806,000	13,355
Maintenance	451,143	452,000	857
Aux agencies	187,025	192,873	5,848
Fixed charges	232,160	276,684	44,324
Extension	106,864	108,525	1,661

Dr. Watkins said the $13,355 increase in operation is largely for fuel, light and power costs and the $44,524 jump in fixed charges is insurance, $7,100 and social security, $31,871.

The net increase of only $857 for maintenance was brought about by reduction in salaries of $20,528 but was offset by a $11,385 increase for upkeep of grounds and $10,000 more for repairs and replacement of equipment.

Enrollment, budget requirements and the tax levy for school district has shown a continual increase since World War II.

In 1945-46, the budget of $1,833,313 required a levy of 17 mills. School enrollment was 13,513. By 1950-51, the enrollment had increased to 14,019 requiring a $3,268,184 budget and a 23.63 mill-levy.

Last year's enrollment was 22,405 with a $9,219,799 budget and a levy of 42.43 mills.

Board members present at the budget session were Robert C. Venner, chairman; Warren Parker, Robert Ammon, and J. Arthur Danielson. Absent were I. J. Devoe and Mrs. Roscoe Hill.

Delay In Sale Is Rejected

The Nebraska Department of Agriculture has been turned down in its request to the General Services Administration that sale of the Omaha Alcohol Plant be delayed.

Department Director Pearle Finigan said he asked the delay so the newly-organized State Agricultural visory committee could study possibilities of using the plant to convert surplus farm commodities into useful products.

Tuesday Meet

Finigan said the first meeting of the committee will be held Tuesday and the Omaha plant would come up for discussion at that time.

He said also the department would keep trying to gain GSA co-operation on the alcohol plant matter.

Finigan said passage of a bill LB 722—which set a one-tenth mill levy for development of industrial uses for farm products opens a "whole new vista" for the state's agricultural industry.

No Deal

Thomas G. Jay, Kansas City, Mo. regional commissioner for GSA, has informed Finigan GSA does not consider retention of industrial plants on government inventory and leasing them to private industry a desirable arrangement.

Finigan said that as far as he knows "Nebraska is the only state that has a program designed to research industrial use possibilities for farm products."

People Do Interesting Things

In these times when national leaders are striving for peaceful solutions to world problems, it is heartening to learn what one small Lincoln women's group is doing to further world-wide understanding of Americans and our democratic way of life.

The 30 members of the Lincoln chapter of Zonta International, a service organization for career and professional women, have undertaken as their new project the participation in "Magazines For Friendship."

A part of President Eisenhower's "People-To-People" program aiming toward better international understanding on a non-governmental basis, the project consists of financing the cost of sending good American magazines abroad to be distributed to the people of foreign lands who do not understand us because they don't know us.

Dr. Albert Croissant of Occidental College, Los Angeles, eight years ago began urging students and church and civic groups to send our magazines abroad instead of throwing them away. And what better way is there to learn the American way of life (even if you can't read English) than by looking at the advertisements and illustrations in our leading periodicals?

Beginning in a small way, the Lincoln Zonta club members last year saved their magazines and, with funds from their own pockets, mailed over 300 magazines to the U.S. Information service at Amman, Jordan, where surprisingly enough, it is reported there is a large English readership.

Under the leadership of Zonta's committee for the project, headed by Mrs. Elmer Scheele, the club plans to interest other Lincoln organizations in the program, which is being supported by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, 4-H Clubs and Scouts, as well as church and women's groups throughout the nation.

Meeting at the home of Mrs. Scheele to plan for their project (and to make sure each magazine bears a sticker stating that the periodical is a gift of the Lincoln Zonta Club) are (from the left) Mrs. Scheele, Mrs. Reynold Settell and Miss Anna Zeman. Also a member of the committee but not pictured is Miss Leora McGrew.

"Bermuda" Party For Bride-Elect

Miss Cathy Gardner was hostess on Wednesday evening at a dessert supper and one-gift shower given in honor of an August bride-to-be, Miss Mary Margaret Draver.

The affair was termed a "Bermuda" party indicative of the informal attire worn by the guests (in the foreground from left to right) Miss Jane Mahoney, Miss Draver, and (in back) Miss Kathy Payne, Miss Gardner, Miss Kathy Steinauer, Miss Marilyn Zweig, Mrs. Stanley Larchick and Miss Juanita Aguirre.

Entertain For Guests

Visiting in Lincoln from San Pedro, Calif., are Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Van Liew, who were honored at a party Saturday evening when Mrs. Van Liew's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Miller, entertained at their home.

Among the guests attending the party were Mrs. Van Liew's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Gibson, and Mr. Van Liew's brother, Mr. Fred Van Liew.

Around The Town

—The autumn activities will be in full swing within a matter of weeks—and if you don't believe it, look at the calendar — Nebraska's first football game is six weeks from tomorrow — Sept. 19, when the Cornhuskers play Texas at the Nebraska stadium, and that will begin the mad, merry pace. Needless to say we are alooking forward to it.

—On the other hand we find the current activity much to our liking, also. This morning we have news of some interesting guests—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graham, their son Mike, and their daughter, Ann, who are dividing their stay in Nebraska between Falls City and Lincoln.

The Grahams, as some of you may know, now reside in Sidney, Australia, where Mr. Graham is a Paramount Picture representative. And for those to whom the name of Graham is unfamiliar we'll tell you that Mrs. Graham is the former Jean Piper, Kappa Alpha Theta at Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham and their family landed in California upon their arrival in the States—flew to New York City, bought a car and drove back to Nebraska. On Tuesday they leave again for the west coast where Michael Graham is a junior at Stanford University and from where Mr. and Mrs. Graham and their daughter will leave for Australia.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham their son and daughter, will spend a portion of this week end as the guests of their aunt, Mrs. Oliver Brown, and Mr. Brown who, by the way, are just home from Hackensack, Minn., where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Stuart.

—And a guest from Yakima, Wash., arrives on Sunday to spend several days in Lincoln. She is Miss Sidney Sutton who is stopping off en route home from the east coast to visit her uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. W. Joyce Ayres, and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Downs. During her stay in town Miss Sutton will be the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ayres.

—Coming from Orlando, Fla. earlier this week were Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Lampert, their daughter, Ann, and their son Peter, are spending two weeks as the guests of Mrs. Lampert's mother, Mrs. Walter J. Gardner, and Mr. Lampert's mother, Mrs. W. H. Linn, and Dr. Linn.

—It would be a strange morning indeed if we had no news of brides—and the morning is anything but strange. So, we have news of August brides.

Today Mrs. Charles Wright (the former Suzanne Opitz) will be a luncheon hostess at the Lincoln Country Club when she entertains nine guests in prenuptial courtesy to Miss Marilyn Toft of Omaha whose marriage to Robert Pelley will take place on Aug. 22. The guest list will include the members of Miss Toft's Kappa Kappa Gamma pledge class.

Coming from Omaha to attend the party will be the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Victor L. Toft, and Mrs. Wright's mother, Mrs. John Opitz.

—And when Mr. and Mrs. C. Myron Loomis entertain next Sunday morning at their home, the 12:30 o'clock brunch will honor Miss Mary Dieterich whose marriage to Roger Schindler takes place on Sunday afternoon. The guest list will include only the family.

—Homecomers to mention this morning are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McCaw and their daughter, Karen. Mr. and Mrs. McCaw and their daughter returned home on Wednesday from a several weeks vacation which took them first to Dubuque, Ia., where they visited Mr. McCaw's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warren McCaw (Georgia Hall, Kappa Kappa Gamma at Nebraska.) Then there was a stop in Chicago, which was highlighted by the White Sox-Yankees game, after which the travelers went on to Mackinac Island, Sault St. Marie, into Canada, and then to Duluth.

The Star In Suburbia

Leaving Friday evening to return to their home in Denver, Colo., will be Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Newell and their son, Ronnie. They have been spending the past week in Lincoln at the home of Mr. Newell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Newell.

PRAIRIE VALLEY

Newest member of the bassinet brigade in Prairie Valley is John Joseph Wilkinson, who arrived July 29 at Bryan Memorial Hospital. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilkinson of 3026 Prairie Rd. Mrs. Wilkinson is the former Margaret Foley.

Ardent admirers of John Joseph are his sister, Ann, 8; and his brothers, Charles, 7, James, 6, and Ronnie, 4. His maternal grandfather is Robert Foley of Blair.

More stork news tells us of another new arrival in Prairie Valley. She is Dee Ann Hudson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hudson of 2620 No. Eden Dr. Dee Ann arrived Monday at Lincoln General Hospital. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Hudson and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Schleiger. Mrs. Hudson was Ann Schleiger.

SOUTH HILLS

Returning Friday evening from a three weeks' vacation were Maj. and Mrs. Robert S. Buckley and their two children, Laurie and Lance. They visited relatives in Provo and Salt Lake City, Utah, and also in Colorado.

FIENE HEIGHTS

Fiene Heights! talcum powder set has a new member. She is Shari Ann Snoke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Snoke of 3915 Woods Blvd. Shari arrived July 28 at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Mrs. Snoke was the former Audrey Naegele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Naegele and the paternal grandmother is Mrs. Margaret Snoke of Elmwood.

Understand that Mrs. Clyde Root will be entertaining at a dessert bridge party at her home on Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Leonard R. Aeschilman who, as you know, will be leaving this month with her family to reside in Casper, Wyo.

Attending the farewell party will be Mrs. Robert Bias, Mrs. George Holdren, Mrs. Don Hamilton, Mrs. Phil James, Mrs. John Minick, Mrs. James Tice, Mrs. John Hoffman, Mrs. Hoyt Yowell, Mrs. Marvin Garber, Mrs. Edwin Becker, and Mrs. Aeschilman's sister, Mrs. Delores Paynter.

KESSLER HEIGHTS

A look at our birthday book tells us that Dennis Bohling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Bohling, celebrated his sixth anniversary on July 31. A group of Dennis' friends ate lunch at the Bohling home in honor of the occasion. They had an added bit of excitement due to the storm, when they all retreated to the basement.

Helping Dennis celebrate were Robbi Beadell, Larry Beck, Don Schmohr, Roger Hinricks, Kim Becker, Joe Adams, Craig Rotter, Terry Mundorff, and Jeff Fergot. Arriving from Omaha in time for the festivities were Dennis' grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Orba James.

Visitors From Texas

Guests in town who are former Lincoln residents are Mrs. Ralph Priest and her daughter, Jayne, who with Ralph, Jr., came from Beaumont, Tex., to visit Mrs. Priest's mother, Mrs. Helen Allen, and her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. George Place, and their family.

Mrs. Priest, who will be remembered as the former Jane Allen and Delta Delta Delta at the University of Nebraska, is the immediate past president of Tri-Delta Alumnae at Beaumont. Currently she is serving as president of the Beaumont Soroptimist Club, vice president of the Panhellenic Association, and executive secretary of the American Cancer Society's Tumor Clinic in Beaumont.

The visitors, who will be in Lincoln several weeks while Mr. Priest is on a Naval Reserve training cruise out of New Orleans, will be honored on Friday when Mrs. Place will entertain at her home at an informal open house to be held during the morning and afternoon hours.

On Monday, Mrs. Walter Lamb will be a luncheon hostess in courtesy to Mrs. Priest, who again will be the honored guest on Tuesday at a luncheon for which Mrs. Robert Wekesser and Mrs. Grant Reed will be co-hostesses at the Wekesser home.

Other numerous courtesies for the out-of-town guest include the coffee on Wednesday morning for which Mrs. Frank Melker was hostess at her home.

Square Dance

Members of the Lincoln Callers' Association will serve as hosts Saturday evening at another in the summer series of square dances. Guests are welcome at the 8:30 o'clock dance at Antelope Park pavilion.

Dear Abby . . .

Disproving Your Opinion!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I shouldn't feel this way, but I can't help it. I just celebrated my fifteenth wedding anniversary and my husband didn't even send me a card.

He's perfect in every way. He doesn't drink, curse or chase. He brings home his pay check in one piece and he worships me and the children. But he says that birthdays, anniversaries and even Mother's Day are "just another day."

I know he loves me, but when I get together with my friends and sisters-in-law and they ask me what he gave me for my anniversary, I am speechless. Am I wrong to feel hurt? "HURT"

DEAR HURT: A woman who is married to a man who "worships" her and the children, doesn't drink, curse or chase and who brings home his pay check in one piece, shouldn't complain when he doesn't make a fuss over her one day a year. Count your blessings. And when anyone asks you what your husband gave you for your anniversary, say, "Fifteen of the happiest years of my life."

DEAR ABBY: My doctor says I should have a husband, but my boyfriend is in no hurry. I am 29 and my boyfriend is 31 and we have been going around together since 1946. He is working steady and so am I. My hope chest is so full I can't close the lid. My doctor says when I settle down with a nice loving man I will get rid of the pains in my neck. How can I get my boyfriend to set a date for the wedding and keep it?

WANTING TO MARRY

DEAR WANTING: A boyfriend who balks at the hitching post after a 13-year courtship is enough to give any girl a pain in the neck. Tell him it's "Now or Never!" Stalls are for horses.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is one of those men who never knows anything when I ask him what is new, but WHEN I give him a piece of gossip he says, "I heard that two months ago." I ask him how come he didn't tell me about it and he says, "I didn't think you'd be interested." Now if that isn't grounds for homicide, what is? READY TO SHOOT

DEAR READY: Hold your fire. Your husband is as normal as blueberry pie!

DEAR ABBY: Many people write in to your column and criticize kids for going steady. "Going steady" is just going with one person instead of many, but if a girl gets into trouble she blames it on going steady. There are lots of kids who go steady and never get into trouble. I would much rather go with one decent boy all the time than to go out with a lot of bums. Thanks for letting me get my two cents' worth in.

GOING STEADY

DEAR GOING: How about going with a LOT of decent boys instead of just one? Limiting yourself to one boy only (even a decent one) can lead to a dangerously cozy relationship. "Nice" girls frequently get into trouble with "decent" boys when the heart rules the head.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CANNOT BE CONSOLED": Losing a child is the most tragic experience a parent must bear. But one must believe that it is more than a coincidence that God and GOOD are similar words. Here is a little story one of my readers sent to me:

"There once was a procession of children marching in heaven. Each one held a lighted candle. As they marched they sang. Their faces shone with happiness. One little girl stood alone.

"Why don't you join us, Little Girl?" one child asked.

"I can't," she replied, "Every time I light my candle my mother puts it out with her tears."

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Marriage Solemnized At Home Wedding

The marriage of Miss Maydelle Smith of Lincoln, daughter of Mrs. Deborah Smith of Portales, N.M., to Robert G. Meier, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Meier of Lyman, was solemnized on Thursday, Aug. 6, at the home of the bride's mother in Portales. Pedestal, urns filled with white summer blossoms and lighted white candles formed the background for the service, which was read by the Rev. Homer Akers, minister of the First Presbyterian Church in Portales.

Mrs. Sam Price Douglas of Portales was her cousin's matron of honor and only attendant. Mrs. Douglas wore an afternoon frock in a pastel print, and carried a nosegay of flowers in matching tone. Lighting the candles was Mrs. J. R. Snelson of Portales.

Serving as best man was John R. Snelson, Portales.

The bride chose for her wedding a daytime ensemble of white pique designed on princess lines with a fitted skirt. Her gown, which was purchased in Spain, was complemented by a mantilla veil of white Spanish lace, and she carried a white lace fan which she brought back from Japan and which was ornamented with a white orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. Meier will make their home at 1234 So. 23rd, in Lincoln, where the bridegroom is a student at the University of Nebraska College of Engineering. Mrs. Meier is a graduate of Eastern New Mexico University and attended Denver University. She is a member of Alpha Psi Omega and Zeta Phi Eta, national drama and speech honoraries, and is active in the Lincoln Community Playhouse.

Husbands, Guests At Steak-Fry

Junior Chamber of Commerce members ate very well, indeed, on Monday evening — or at least some of them did — when Mrs. Frank Rheinschild entertained her Mrs. JayCee bridge group at a steak fry. Naturally, the husbands were special guests and were put to work cooking the steaks.

From the left are Mrs. Gene Eno, Mrs. Rheinschild, Bob Camp and Mr. Rheinschild.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to bridge, of course.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

A X Y D L D A A X B
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another, in this example, A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Optimists Get State Meet Spot

Lincoln Star Special

York—Keith Sieck pitched and batterymate Jim Levy batted the Lincoln Optimists into the state Junior Legion baseball tourney at Columbus starting Sunday with a 5-1 victory over defending state champion Hastings here Thursday night.

Sieck, touched for 6 hits and the donor of 6 walks, struck out 12 to strand 11 Hastings runners. The only Hastings run came in the second on 3 walks and a passed ball.

Levy began to make up for the passed ball in the 4th, when his single batted in the first Lincoln run. In the 6th, another single by Levy batted in two more runs in a 3-run inning. A pair of errors and Wayne Kubert's hit also helped that inning.

Jack Griffith's single and a double by Sieck got the final Optimist run in the 8th.

A pair of fine throws from the outfield helped snap Hastings hopes. Rightfielder Bill Haas threw out a runner at the plate in the 5th, and shortstop Denny Puelz threw out another runner at third after a toss from Kubert in left field.

The Optimists will meet the Omaha area tournament winner in the Colmbus opener Sunday night at 6 p.m. In the Omaha tournament, the Dugdales will meet the Storz team in the finals tonight.

McCook beat Scottsbluff 9-2 and Central City nipped Columbus 6-5 in other area finals Thursday night.

Green Bay—Sending 16 men to bat in the 5th inning, Green Bay rallied from an 8-2 deficit with 11 big runs and went on to a 16-9 victory over Lincoln here Thursday night in a double-play spiced Three-I League game.

Eight double-plays were worked in the game, cutting off further scoring as the two teams banged 31 hits. Green Bay had 5 of the twin-killings.

Don Kenway's relief pitching helped the Green Bay win. He pitched a double-play ball to end a 4-run 4th inning for Lincoln, then allowed only 4 hits and a single run in the remainder of the game.

Green Bay's big inning, in which they picked up 8 hits and were helped by a pair of walks and errors by Pug Williamson and Don Bacon, was boosted along by two-run triples by George Scott and Gus Sancimino.

Lincoln had moved to a 2-0 lead in the opening inning, with Jim Lynn's triple the big blow. Bacon's double plated two more in the second, and Mike Hershberger's triple was the big hit in the 4-run Lincoln 4th.

But the Lincoln slugging was wiped out when Green Bay exploded against starter Joel Horlen, continued off Jim Host, before Joe Hoener ended the 5th inning.

GIANTS BOOST LEAD BY ROUTING BRAVES

McCovey, Bressoud, Mays Pep 7-1 Victory

San Francisco (AP) — A walloping rookie, Willie McCovey, knocked in the first run and shortstop Eddie Bressoud contributed a 3-run homer Thursday as the San Francisco Giants blasted Lew Burdette and the Milwaukee Braves 7-1.

Willie Mays also smashed a solo homer in the 7th, but by that time the issue appeared settled.

The victory boosted the Giants' National League lead to one game over the idle Los Angeles Dodgers and two over the defending champion Braves.

Veteran right-hander Sam Jones notched his 15th pitching victory of the season before a sun-drenched crowd of 22,923 as he tomahawked the Braves with an 8-hitter.

The big hurler was nearly kayoed in the 5th as he tagged the sliding Hank Aaron out at 3rd base.

San Francisco struck for two runs off Burdette in the first as the 15-game winner was started on his 11th setback. He hurled 6 innings before he was lifted for a pinch hitter.

Jimmy Davenport and Mays started the first inning with singles. Up came McCovey, the 21-year-old rookie, who blooped a short fly to left center that fell for a single, scoring Davenport and sending Mays to 3rd. Orlando Cepeda's sacrifice fly scored Mays.

McCovey's hit made it 7 straight games in which the sensational rookie has hit safely since he came to the Giants from Phoenix one week ago. He singled again in the 7th, putting his average at .467 with 14 hits in 30 times at bat.

San Francisco clinched the victory, its second of the 3-game series, on 4 runs in the 4th.

Willie Kirkland opened with a single, Daryl Spencer followed with another and reached second when Kirkland drew a throw to 3rd. Hobie Landrith grounded to shortstop Johnny Logan who threw wildly to the plate and Kirkland slid in. Then came Bressoud's 370-foot homer into the left field pavilion.

The Braves' only run came in the 6th as Wes Covington singled, reached 3rd on Frank Torre's double and came in on an infield out.

Red Wilson, who had 3 of Detroit's 10 hits, and Eddie Yost slammed home runs for the first two Tiger runs. Art Ditmar lost his 3rd straight for a 7-8 record although the homers were the only earned runs he has allowed in his last 24 innings.

Detroit scored its last two runs off reliever Duke Maas in the 9th on infield hits by Wilson and Foytack, 3 walks and an error by Hector Lopez.

Foytack limited the Yanks to 3 singles, two infield scratches, in squaring his record at 10-10, and giving the Tigers the rubber game of the 3-game set.

It was the Tigers' 12th victory in 17 games with New York this season.

Wilson hit his 3rd homer of the season on Ditmar's first pitch in the 5th and Yost hit his 14th in the 8th.

Astleford's 145 Leads State Golf

. . . Taber, Spangler, Reed Remain Close

Omaha (AP)—Bob Astleford of Omaha held a one stroke lead Thursday at the end of 36 holes of play in the Nebraska amateur golf tourney.

Astleford, a champ back in the days before the meet switched to medal play, had a 73, two over par, Thursday to add to his opening round Wednesday of 72. That gave him a 145 at the halfway mark.

He was a stroke ahead of Lincoln lefthander Matt Taber.

Taber, who also had a 72 Wednesday, was 74 Thursday over the Omaha Country Club course.

Then came defending champion Dick Spangler Jr., Lincoln, at 147 and Whitie Reed, Lincoln, at 150. Spangler and Reed also had 72s Wednesday.

Spangler fell behind Thursday because of a double-bogey on his first hole.

Also at 150 with Reed was Dean Wilson Jr., Omaha.

Astleford opened his second round with a pair of birdies and at the end of 9 holes was one under par. He was two under when he birdied No. 11. But he bogied No. 12 and took a double bogey on No. 15 and a bogey on 17 as his under-par score faded.

Spangler, seeking his 3rd straight title, also had his troubles on the back 9 after having birdied two holes on the front 9 to make up for his bad start. He had a 3-putt 10th green and a bogey on No. 15.

Taber was out in 36, one over, after he birdied No. 4, the toughest hole on the course, but he 3 putted No. 14 and on No. 16 dropped another shot to par.

The final 36 holes will be played today.

COLAVITO POKE RIPS NATS, 5-2

Washington (AP) — Rocky Colavito swatted his 32nd home run with one man on to snap 2-2 tie in the 8th inning and Cleveland rolled on to a 5-2 victory over Washington Thursday night.

Colavito's blast gave Gary Bell his 12th win of the year in a duel with Russ Kemmerer. Bell held the Senators to 6 hits and shut them out after a first-inning double by Clint Courtney drove in two runs.

In the second inning Bell doubled home two runs to tie the score. After pitching 5 straight shutout innings following Bell's hit, Kemmerer weakened in the 8th. Tito Francona beat out a hit to deep short, then Colavito homered. A single by George Strickland and a triple by Russ Nixon accounted for the Indians' final run.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant

Sports Editor, The Star

(Today's Point Blank is written by Paul LeBar, subbing for Sports Editor Don Bryant, who is on vacation.)

Midsummer Madness

About these things you wonder . . . why the boxing racket, given a refreshing pause when Sweden's Ingemar Johansson dumped heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, can't play it straight-faced awhile . . . instead of inviting guffaws again with the latest Rosensohn-Kahn-Vellela battle?

LeBar

If maybe Boston Red Sox slugger Jackie Jensen isn't the wisest of them all . . . if he sticks by his decision to hang 'em up after this season, while he's still ahead in the game?

What, notwithstanding money, could possibly offer enough incentive for two of baseball's greats — Stan Musial and Ted Williams—to play again in 1960?

Noted And Quoted

Ex-Coloradoan Carroll Hardy, recently sent down to Seattle, Wash. by the Cleveland Indians: "I want to succeed in baseball. I am completely through with football." Hardy is also a former San Francisco 49-er halfback.

Lincoln manager Ira Hutchinson, when asked which of his former managers was best: (Leo) Durocher was the smartest on the field, (Bill) Mckechnie and (Bill) Southworth were good at handling men, (Bob) Coleman was a wonder with young players but not older ones, and (Casey) Stengel was impatient with youngsters or men who did not play up to his expectations."

Executive sports editor Art Rosenbaum of the San Francisco Chronicle, in defense of a 3rd major league: ". . . The quality of play if eventually spread over 3 leagues will dip slightly from newly established standards. Nevertheless baseball in 3 major leagues circa 1970 will probably be far swifter than in two majors circa 1940."

Hot Weather, Hot Topics

The Portland, Ore. Beavers of the Pacific Coast League (Open Classification) have a project underway that should ring a familiar bell . . . a suit against baseball's major leagues asking for $1,800,000 damages.

Hot weather or no, one week from tonight is the Baltimore Colts-College All-Stars football classic in Soldiers Field, Chicago.

Heat? How tough is it on pitchers in places like Cincinnati these muggy nights? . . . The Reds' Joe Nuxhall dropped 13 pounds last week while taming St. Louis 9-2.

Whereabouts, Activities Unknown

Fight Figures In Paris

Paris (AP) — The muddled heavyweight championship promotional picture had shifted to Paris Thursday night and taken on a cloak-and-dagger hue.

Three men prominent in boxing, including two vitally concerned with the situation now under investigation in New York, arrived here separately and all 3 promptly dropped from sight.

Bill Rosensohn, promoter of the Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson fight last June and whose falling out with his partner in Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., precipitated the probe, arrived from New York and disappeared.

Johansson arrived from Goteborg, Sweden. The champion also vanished.

Truman Gibson, erstwhile president of the International Boxing Club and now head of National Boxing Enterprises, Inc., also showed up here after disappearing for several hours but he said he was surprised to hear that Johansson and Rosensohn also were in Paris and insisted he had seen neither of them.

Before leaving New York, Gibson said he had turned down an offer to purchase Rosensohn's 1-3 interest in Rosensohn Enterprises.

Meanwhile, in New York the investigation of the mystifying situation concerning the promotion of the June fight was proceeding without delay.

Charlie Black, a pal of Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato, appeared at the district attorney's office accompanied by an attorney. Black was named by Rosensohn in a by-lined magazine article as the man Rosensohn had to cut in on the profits of the June fight.

Rosensohn and his erstwhile partner, Vincent Velella, appeared at the district attorney's office Wednesday. Velella was ordered to appear before the Grand jury this morning, and Rosensohn was subpoenaed to report at the district attorney's office Aug. 28.

Rosensohn was accompanied by a detective when he left after the questioning, and admitted he was being guarded.

White Sox, Orioles Play 18-Inning Tie

Baltimore (AP)—The Chicago White Sox and the Baltimore Orioles battled to a 1-1 tie Thursday night in a game called after 18 innings because of curfew. The game must be replayed at a later date.

The superbly pitched contest saw lefty Billy Pierce of the White Sox go 16 innings before being relieved. Hoyt Wilhelm, who relieved Oriole starter Billy O'Dell in the 9th, went 8 2-3 innings before allowing a hit and gave up only two singles in 10 frames.

With no inning permitted to start after 11:59 p.m., both teams threatened in their last times at bat.

In the top of the 18th, Chicago advanced runners to second and 3rd on a single by Sammy Esposito, an intentional walk, and two passed balls by catcher Joe Ginsberg.

Wilhelm retired Al Smith on a blooper to short right, which second baseman Billy Gardner grabbed running away from the infield.

Willie Tasby singled with one out in the bottom of the 18th and moved to second as Gene Woodling grounded out. But Walt Dropo tapped back to the mound and was thrown out by Chicago reliefer Turk Lown.

The game was the longest of the year in the major leagues. Twice before this season the same two teams played 17 innings, with the White Sox winning 6-5 and 3-2.

The tie left Chicago 1½ games ahead of second-place Cleveland, which won over Washington 5-2.

10-Run Frame Features Bucs' Romp Over Cards

St. Louis (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates scored 10 runs in the 9th, the most in one inning by a National League club this season, as they buried the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday night 18-2, with a 23-hit barrage.

Harvey Haddix coasted to his 8th victory as Smoky Burgess drove in 6 runs with 5 hits, including a 3-run homer and two doubles. Bill Virdon batted in 5 runs with a 3-run homer and a single and Bob Skinner had 4 singles.

Starter Larry Jackson was the loser, but he gave up just 4 runs in his 7 innings. Lindy McDaniel was pounded for 4 runs in the 8th without retiring a batter.

In the 10-run 9th, 15 Pirates went to bat and 10 hit safely. Burgess doubled and homered in that inning and Rocky Nelson doubled twice. All told, there were two home runs, 3 doubles, 5 singles and two walks in the big frame.

Haddix, who has lost 9, romped to his 4th victory—half of his 1959 total—over his ex-teammates. The tiny lefty allowed just 7 hits, all singles, and blanked the Cardinals after Alex Grammas singled home two runs in the second inning.

The 4th-place Pirates scored enough for Haddix in the first inning. Skinner's single, Dick Groat's double, a walk and Burgess' two-run double produced 3 runs.

Bonebright Cops Playoff Opener

Bonebright waltzed to 11 runs in the first inning and held out for a 13-3 victory over Standard Reliance in the first Elks League playoff game Thursday night. The second in the best-of-3 games will be played tonight.

Bonebright was aided by 5 errors in the big inning. Joe McWilliams' 3-run home run capped the surge. Brian Binning and Kenny Filbert divided pitching chores for the winners.

Most of the scoring in the opening inning was off starter Jon Munford, with Tom Phillips shutting the door effectively, after giving up McWilliams' homer.

Veteran Golfers In Cleveland Lead

Cleveland (AP)—Magic putters Thursday whisked two veteran campaigners into one-stroke leads in the opening round of the $25,000 Cleveland Open golf tournament.

Jim Ferrier, the Australian from North Hollywood, Calif. and Pete Cooper of Lakeland, Fla., each 44 years old, gave the youngsters a lesson as they manufactured identical 33-34—67 scores over the Seneca Golf Club's 6,955-yard, par 35-36—71 course.

Ferrier, the 1947 PGA champion, has been a stranger to the tour for the last 5 years, but he had 10 one-putt greens and used only 24 putts as he fashioned 5 birdies and one bogie for his 67. Cooper one-putted 9 greens and had only 27 putts for 6 birdies and one double bogie.

Ferrier has won only $200 in 4 previous tournaments this year, but Cooper has $8,980 in official winnings along with some $10,000 picked up in a Caribbean tour which doesn't show in the records.

A stroke off the pace with 68s were 25-year-old Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., who has been in the money in all 6 tournaments since he turned pro; 36-year-old Doug Ford of Crystal River, Fla., who has been in the money in 105 of the last 108 tournaments; and Don January of Denver, Colo., who hasn't won a tournament since the Dallas Centennial in 1956.

'59 PLAY FOR RED DOUBTFUL

Milwaukee (AP) — Red Schoendienst, Milwaukee second baseman who is recovering from tuberculosis, said Thursday night it was doubtful whether he would be able to play for the Braves this year.

"The doctor doesn't advise me to play," Schoendienst said in a telephone interview, "but he definitely said I'll be ready to go next spring.

"He still doesn't want me to run this year. I can jog a little bit, but running is out."

Red added that the only way he could get his legs into shape was to run and since that form of exercise was out it was doubtful whether he would be ready to play even an inning or two when he returns to the Braves Sept. 1. He said he planned to move his family to Milwaukee Aug. 17 and continue his conditioning program here.

Sugar Ray Signs For Dec. Fight

New York (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson has signed for a 15 round fight against Paul Pender in Boston Dec. 5 and the Massachusetts version of the world middleweight championship, promoter Sam Silverman said Thursday night.

Silverman reported he completed plans for the title bout at Boston Garden after a full day of negotiations with Robinson and his manager George Gainford.

The National Boxing Assn. has withdrawn recognition of Robinson as the middleweight king but Silverman said he has assurance from Massachusetts Boxing Commission chairman Herman Greenberg that the state will consider it for the world crown.

Pender is a fistic fireman from Brookline, Mass. who has won 8 straight fights in a comeback including an impressive 10 round decision over Ralph (Tiger) Jones.

Silverman said Robinson has signed for a 42½ per cent guarantee of the live gate. Sugar Ray also will get 75 per cent of auxliliary money including television rights. Silverman said he is considering two bids for televising the bout and is assured of a minimum of $100,000 from that source.

Pender has signed for a rematch within 90 days if he wins, Silverman said.

Unearned Tallies Tip Athletics, 4-3

Boston (AP) — Boston lefty Leo Liely pitched his way out of a bases loaded jam in the 9th inning Thursday and preserved rookie Jerry Casale's 5-hit, 4-3 victory over Kansas City.

Red Sox infielders Frank Malzone and Don Buddin struck the vital supporting blows.

Kiely relieved Casale with two on and two out in the 9th and walked pinchhitter Hal Smith before he got Wayne Terwilliger on a grounder which was turned into a force play at second.

Casale, a Brooklyn transplant, was tagged for solo homers by Dick Williams in the first inning and Bill Tuttle in the 8th. Tuttle had doubled in the 6th and scored on an infield out and a wild pitch.

Veteran Ray Herbert, who had missed two pitching turns due to a neck and back ailment, and rookie John Tsitouris combined to check Boston on 4 hits, but the Sox were able to bunch 4 unearned runs in the 4th.

After two were out in the deciding frame, Malzone lined a two-run double to the base of the left field wall and Buddin banged a two-run single through the hole.

Herbert had retired the first 10 men in order before Pete Runnels reached on shortstop Jerry Lumpe's throwing error. Gary Geiger walked, Ted Williams fanned, then Jackie Jensen walked to fill the bases. At this point Malzone and Buddin delivered the goods.

The only other Sox safeties were singles by Jensen in the 6th and Gary Geiger in the 8th.

Dick Tomanek Called By A's

Kansas City (AP)—Left-hander Dick Tomanek, ailing practically all season, was placed on the active list of the Kansas City Athletics.

At the same time the Athletics returned right-hander Howard Reed to Portland of the Pacific Coast League.

Reed was recalled by Kansas City in June and returns to Portland with an 0-3 record.

CATFISHING IN RIVERS, RESERVOIRS STILL GOOD

Catfishing on the Big Blue and Republican rivers and in Maloney Reservoir set the pace for Nebraska anglers in recent days, the State Game Commission said Thursday.

Although hot weather cut down pressure, it was not keeping the lunkers from biting. Two catfish tipping the scales at more than 20 pounds were taken in the reservoir area.

Maloney was a top spot for catfish and walleyes. Dick Fuller of North Platte took a 23-pound, 11-ounce channel cat at the inlet.

Other big catfish catches at Maloney included: a 13-pound, 13-ouncer by Harold Cooper of North Platte; a 12-pound, 9-ouncer by Bob Roberts, also of North Platte.

Cooper took his fish on crawdad while Roberts used an old standby, grasshopper.

Officer Loron Bunney of Ogallala said a 24-pound catfish was taken in the spillway at McConaughy Reservoir but that the owner neglected to leave his name after having the fish weighed at the sports service resort.

The Big Blue continued yielding catfish regularly.

A 13-year-old fisherman, Jackie Russelman of Crete, took an 8 and 11-pound cat from the stream. Another youngster, Jimmie Smith, 14, landed 8 cats weighing 2 to 4 pounds in Big Sandy Creek in Thayer County.

Marv Kort of Hastings took a 5½-pound cat from the Republican River.

One bass fisherman at Alexandria had very good luck. John W. Zeek, using a Lazy Ike lure, took 7 largemouths from the lake. The total weight was 28 pounds.

Prescott Takes Midget Playoff

Prescott won the first game of a best-of-three Midget League playoff series with Northeast Thursday, 8-6, despite being out-hit and comitting 9 errors.

Pitcher Andy Jesifers struck out 12 men to help strand 13 Northeast runners. John Rosenberg, with a bases-loaded double in the first inning, and 3 hits by Bob Klein, paced the batting attack.

The second game is set for 1 p.m. today at Elks Field.

Neighbors Saw Noble As Neat, Quiet Man

By George Moyer

The room looked like any other vacant room in a residential area rooming house—except for the white powder scattered over furniture, cabinets and fixtures.

The powder was the kind police use to lift fingerprints. Its presence meant that the room had been the object of a police search.

The room had belonged to Harlan Lynn Noble, escaped mental patient charged with the kidnap-assault of Theresa Dowding. It was one of 5 apartments at 1937 F.

The occupants of the other apartments said that Noble, known to them as Daniel Boyd, was a neat, quiet man who kept much to himself.

'Offered Candy'

Mrs. James Ellison said that Noble "offered the little girl downstairs candy all the time. He didn't seem strange or anything."

Donald Crawford, who lived just down the hall, said, "After the police got to broadcasting about a green shirt and pants, my wife wanted me to turn this fellow in. I talked her out of it. Now, I'm sorry I talked her out of it."

Crawford added that he was genuinely surprised to find out that Noble was the man police were looking for.

John Heeckt, who has a third floor apartment, told the Star that he had talked to Noble when they sat on the steps to escape the heat in the evenings.

'Quiet Fellow'

"He was a quiet fellow. He told me he had been married and had a child about 18. He said he had tried several times to enlist in the army during WWII but they always turned him down," Heeckt said.

"He told me that he wanted to make enough money to pay down on his own truck. He said he had a job up at Ashland in the gravel pits," Heeckt said.

"It's a funny thing," Heeckt concluded, "but that description doesn't match him too well. His speech isn't broken and he is a very clean person—not with a 3-day growth like the pictures show him."

Akbar Moshirfard, a student roomer backed Heeckt's comments. "He was very normal and quiet. Once he did tell me he wasn't American born. He was much alone," he said.

'Perfectly Normal'

A neighbor, Mrs. Edson Silloway of 1922 E, said Noble had picked up her 9 year-old son once by the waist. "But he was perfectly normal the once or twice I saw him. Butchy (the boy) came home with a bag of candy once and I asked him where he got it.

"He said this man gave it to him so I gave him a good lecture—I don't want my kids taking candy from strangers and I don't think they will."

Butchy agreed that he wouldn't — any more.

NOBLE SOUGHT EMPLOYMENT WITH CITY

Kidnap-suspect Harlan Noble also has been identified from published photographs as a "disgruntled job-seeker" who visited City Hall briefly on July 7.

Noble first "wanted to see the mayor," but Mayor Pat Boyles was not in his office. After it developed he was seeking employment, Noble was directed to the city personnel office.

A personnel employe recalled that Noble "became abusive" after being advised there were no immediate job openings and left without filling out an employment application.

The woman employe said the man snarled something about "too many women running things" and shook a finger under her nose before leaving.

She admitted being more frightened now after learning the man's identity.

Wayne State Expects Hike In Enrollment

Indications that enrollment at Wayne State Teachers College will be up again this year were sounded Thursday when it was learned that dormitory reservations are running 9% ahead of last year.

Dr. Russell Owen, dean of administration at Wayne, told the State Normal Board the School has made reservations for 446 men and 431 women.

He made the comment at a special meeting called for approval of a trust agreement for financing a new men's dormitory at Wayne.

The dormitory, slated for completion Sept. 1, 1960, will be financed through a $1.3 million revenue bond issue which will be repaid through dormitory rental fees.

The new building, which will have 164 rooms designed to house 328 persons, will be constructed in two 3½-story wings connected by a split-level lounge and reception building.

Existing dormitories were designed to house about 300 students, but most of the rooms are large enough to handle 3 persons, thus making it possible for the college to arrange housing on campus for all of those applying this year, Dr. Owens said.

Enrollment at Wayne for the past school year totaled 1,144, which includes part-time as well as full-time students.

AUNT SAYS NOBLE BORN IN IOWA

. . . Not Switzerland

Lincoln Star Special

Wapello, Ia. — "Harlan Noble was not born in Switzerland. He was born right here in Wapello," the aunt to the man who is charged in the abduction and attack on 6-year-old Theresa Dowding of Lincoln said Thursday night.

"He lived here with his parents all his younger days," Mrs. Etta Noble said. "His parents were also born and raised right in this area."

Police records in Lincoln list the man's birthplace as being in Switzerland.

Mrs. Noble said Harlan has 4 brothers and 3 sisters, all still living in Iowa. His parents died in the late '40s.

"The family was poor, but respectable," she said. "Harlan was always quiet and I liked him. I'm sorry to hear he's in trouble again."

Army Reserve Leaves Sunday For Colorado

About 1,000 Nebraska Army reservists, including some trainees, will begin two weeks of active duty Sunday at Ft. Carson, Colo.

The 89th Infantry Division will be taking part in its final encampment as an infantry unit. Next fall the 89th Division will reorganize into a training division.

On Aug. 13 Maj. Gen. Darrell M. Daniel, commander of the 16th Corps Area, will fly from Omaha to Camp Carson for a look at the training activities. The Nebraskans will return Aug. 23.

Accident Victim Files $22,500 Suit

Edward W. Miller of Lincoln filed a $22,500 damage suit Thursday in Lancaster District Court against Mr. and Mrs. James M. Eller of 3930 D.

He alleges he was injured when his car and one driven by Mrs. Eller and owned by her husband were in collision June 6th at 9th and M.

Accused At Communion One Day After Assault

One day after the kidnaping of Theresa Dowding, Harlan Lynn Noble, who has been charged with the crime, took Communion at the rail of the Trinity Lutheran Church at 12th and H.

According to the Rev. Alfred H. Ernst, newly-appointed church pastor, Noble was among 28 persons taking Communion last Sunday night.

"Noble hadn't registered for Communion," the Rev. Mr. Ernst said. "That's the reason we noticed him."

Elder Herbert Haar, who was ushering at the service, said he talked to Noble who introduced himself as Luther Boyd.

Bought Pop

"He bought a bottle of pop at the service station where I worked the next day and I asked him if he was a member of a church," Harr said.

"He told me he used to belong to a church in St. Louis and said that's where he thought his Communion record was."

He also said he had a ride to St. Louis and a job in the wrecking business waiting for him when he got there, Haar said.

Haar and the Rev. Mr. Ernst said Noble seemed "like a perfect gentleman." He was wearing blue slacks and a new white shirt open at the neck.

'Satisfied With Police Work'—Mayor

Mayor Pat Boyles at his news conference Thursday said he was "generally satisfied so far" with the police handling of Lincoln's kidnap-rape case.

While his office has not become involved in the case in any way, Mayor Boyles said he has been informed often on the progress of the police investigation by Safety-Welfare Director Emmett Junge.

On the subject of whether a sex molestation bureau should be added to the department, Boyles said he "sees no reason for such a bureau now," but there is "a need for additional officers."

Under Strength

The mayor noted the department is now 3 or 4 officers under its authorized strength and that 3 or 4 "temporary" officers will be leaving Sept. 1.

The City Council recently approved $40-a-month wage boosts for policemen and firemen, but turned down longevity pay on a majority vote.

While the department had requested additional manpower also, police officials gave the priority to salaries when given a choice by the Council in budget hearings.

Two Workers Hurt In Elevator Mishap

Omaha (AP)—Two sheet metal workers were injured Thursday when a conveyor-type elevator toppled at the new federal-postoffice building.

Richard Hardesty, 25, suffered scalf cuts and possible other head injuries. Vernon Gallagher, 35, suffered a broken leg and back injuries. They were listed in satisfactory condition at a hospital.

Serve God, Man, Nursing Grads Told

"Happiness is the tranquility of soul which arises from a sense of duty and from the conviction we are doing our duty to God and man," the Rt. Rev. Msgr. C. J. Keenan told members of St. Elizabeth Hospital School of Nursing graduating class Thursday night.

He emphasized that happiness does not necessarily come from the spectacular, but that happiness in nursing is found by living up to one's love for God and man.

Dr. R. F. Mueller, member of the hospital staff, emphasized the importance of the process of learning in the field of nursing.

He said that learning continues daily through contacts with doctors, patients, and cohorts; and the learning after formal education is what means the difference between a "real nurse" and a "plain RN."

Bishop James V. Casey, assisted by Dr. S. T. Thierstein, head of the medical staff, awarded the diplomas to the 26 graduates.

Brock To Tour Flood Hit Area

Omaha (AP)—Rep. Lawrence Brock will arrive in Omaha at noon Friday to start a tour of the flood ravaged Third Congressional District areas.

He will be accompanied on the tour by Nebraska state officials and groups urging a flood control program for the Salt-Wahoo creek watershed.

The stricken areas in Douglas, Sarpy and Saunders Counties have been declared eligible for federal loans to repair damage.

The floods struck early Sunday after downpours measuring up to an unofficial 12 inches.

R.G. DEFIES CONGRESS, CONTRACTORS CHARGE

Another round was fired Thursday in the current highway wage dispute between the Nebraska Chapter of Associated General Contractors and Gov. Ralph Brooks with the contractors accusing the governor of "defying Congress."

The charge was based on the governor's statement that the Highway Department will apply federal Interstate Highway wage-setting methods (which are pegged on an area basis) to other highway projects.

"Congress resisted the pressure of union leaders, and refused to apply the unrealistic Interstate Highway wage law to the regular highway system," the AGC said Thursday.

"Governor Brooks, alone of all the governors, is ignoring the federal law," the contractors said.

Highest Level

"He is setting the highest wage level that exists in Omaha for a highway job that is located in a typical farm area in Nebraska," the AGC asserted.

"The federal law plainly says that 'minimum' wages shall be set," the contractors declared, adding that "for many years the State Department of Roads has followed the plain language of the federal law."

The AGC then leveled 5 questions at the governor:

1. "What pressure caused him to reverse the long-standing policy of the Department of Roads?"

Visits Influence

2. "Have the frequent visits to the Governor's office by Mr. (Harold) Goebel, Omaha business agent for the Operating Engineers Union, and the recent visit by Paul Larson, a Washington official of the same union, had anything it do with the reversal in our State's highway policy?"

3. "What effect on the Governor's provision did the recent visit to his office by two Teamsters Union officials from Kansas City and Omaha, have?"

4. "Has the Governor's office sought advice from any source other than union leaders?"

5. "Most important, why doesn't the Governor's office answer to the people of Nebraska the question: "Why should highway users in our state pay millions of dollars in additional taxes, and receive fewer improved roads because of increased construction costs, in order to satisfy the illegal demands of a few union leaders?"

$47,307 Suit Filed For Dog Bite Injuries

Gladys Ord Jones of Lincoln filed a $47,307.07 damage suit against a former Lincoln couple in Lancaster District Court in connection with an alleged attack by the couple's dog.

She alleges she was attacked and bitten by the dog of Mr. and Mrs. James Smothers, formerly of 919 So. 15th, on May 21, 1956. The Smothers reportedly now live in Spokane, Wash.

Retired Deshler Farmer, Wm. Pohlmann, 76, Has Played Role In All 51 Thayer Co. Fairs

By Gene Budig

Deshler, Neb. — It's no secret around these parts that 76-year-old William Pohlmann is a lover of county fairs.

In fact, the retired Deshler farmer has taken an active part in all 51 of the Thayer County fairs.

Pohlmann was among the 2,500 persons jamming the fair grounds Thursday for the opening of the annual 3-day festival. Fair promoters are hoping the over-all turnout will top 5,000.

Helps With Exhibits

Until recent years, Pohlmann entered the cream of his livestock for judging. However, now he is content to just help set up the exhibits and do odd jobs.

"It's a funny thing," he said. "I seem to enjoy these fairs as much now as when I was a kid."

Comparing the present fair edition with those of the "old days," he said, "First of all, this year's is by far the biggest and most elaborate we've ever staged."

'Better Organized'

The personable old-timer, who now lives in town with his wife, claims the fair is organized much better now. "When all this stuff started, only a handful of persons gave time to its promotion."

The yearly Thayer County project has the earmarks of a record breaker. Nearly 1,000 exhibits have already been submitted compared to 500 a year ago.

The initial Thayer County Fair drew only 75 exhibits, Pohlmann recalled.

Another record has been set in the livestock division with more than 100 animals entered. "It wasn't too long ago that we were glad to have half that figure," he said.

This year's fair is extra special for Pohlmann. His 3 children will meet him for a day at the fairgrounds.

They are Elmer Pohlmann of Deshler, Mrs. Alice Schart of Hebron and Erna Pohlmann of Hebron.

Explains Fair's Growth

"It wasn't too long ago, Georgia, that this fair was about half this size," 76-year-old William Pohlmann told little Georgia Hembee at the opening of the Thayer County Fair at Deshler Thursday. Pohlmann, a retired farmer, hasn't missed a Thayer County Fair since it started 51 years ago. (Star Staff Photo)

Friday's Parade To Highlight Fair

Lincoln Star Special

Deshler, Neb. — The highlight of the Thayer County Fair will be Friday night, according to fair officials.

At this time a lengthy parade of livestock and major exhibits will be run off at the fairgrounds.

The officials added the 4-H department will furnish most of the exhibits at the night parade.

45 Arlington Atlas Base Carpenters Walk Out Due To Inter-Union Dispute

Omaha (AP) — Forty-five carpenters working on the Atlas missile base near Arlington, Neb., stayed away from their jobs Thursday.

About 55 carpenters are employed on the project.

Claude Albaugh, business agent for the carpenters district council, said the walkout was unauthorized.

It apparently was the result of an inter-union dispute as well as a dispute between individual carpenters and the J. Hilding Johnsen Co., a subcontractor on the job.

The men walked off the site Wednesday saying they were protesting the firing of foremen.

Gene Shoehigh, chief steward at the project, said the strikers were not receiving representation from Albaugh or other union representatives.

Albaugh denied this and said some of the trouble resulted from a jurisdictional dispute involving local 1463 of the Millwrights Union.

Cancellation Of Frontier Flight Surprises Lang

Alliance, Neb. (AP) — Alliance City Manager R. W. Lang expressed surprise and disappointment Thursday at learning Frontier Airlines plans to drop an early morning flight to Omaha.

If the airline drops the early morning flight, it apparently will no longer keep a plane here overnight, Lang said. The airline has been renting a hangar from the city for $175 a month for the plane.

The announcement of the discontinuance of the early flight came on the same day it was announced that for the first time Frontier has taken on an average of 5 persons a day for an entire month.

Boardings in July were 161 compared with 76 during June.

Irrigation Tours Set

Deshler, Neb. — Two irrigation tours for Thayer County are planned for Wednesday, Aug. 12. In the Deshler area, the tour will begin at 9:30 a.m. on the Ray Duensing farm. In the Davenport-Carleton area, the tour will begin at 2 p.m. on the Calvin Meers farm.

Ray Engelmeyer Has Prize Beef At Fremont Fair

Lincoln Star Special

Fremont, Neb. — Both the reserve and grand championships of the beef judging contest at the 29th annual Fremont 4-H Fair were won by Ray Engelmeyer of Cuming County, fair officials reported.

Other livestock division winners were:

State Guard Off To Camp On Saturday

Omaha (AP) — The Red Bull Division, the Iowa-Nebraska National Guard Thirty-Fourth Division, will be enroute Saturday to its annual two week field maneuvers and encampment at Camp Ripley in Minnesota.

The 7,600 men will make the two day trip in approximately 1,405 military vehicles.

Maj. Gen. Warren C. Wood, Gering, Red Bull Division commander, said multiple routes, widely spaced convoys, and two division helicopters will be used. The helicopters will co-ordinate with division military police on the ground to prevent congestion.

Convoys will bivouac Saturday night at points in eastern South Dakota, northern Iowa and southern Minnesota. Convoys are scheduled to arrive at Camp Ripley at mid-afternoon Sunday.

The number of men at camp will be smaller than in past years. The division's 5 field artillery battalions recently completed training at Camp Guernsey, Wyo., and the tank battalion and reconnaissance company from Iowa are taking specialized training at Fort Knox, Ky.

Features of the encampment include Governor's Day Saturday August 15. The governors of both states will be present for the presentation of efficiency awards, and the annual parade and athletic tournaments.

Attractions Along U.S. 163 Noted

Superior, Neb. (AP) — Robert Beetley, Fairbury Chamber of Commerce secretary, told directors of the Highway 3 Assn. Thursday there are hundreds of tourist attractions along the road which has now been designated U.S. 163.

Beetley surveyed all the communities along and near the highway to determine their interest in publicizing and advertising the highway.

Beetley and George Newton of Fairbury were named to a committee to plan an extensive advertising campaign which will be outlined at the association's annual meeting in Auburn in October.

Pacifists Back At Mead Site

Omaha (AP) — Two pacifists pitched a tent near the Atlas missile base project near Mead Thursday and one said she planned to fast for 4 days.

The two, Mrs. Marjorie Swann, Trevose, Pa., and Arthur J. Harvey, Sheffield, Mass., are members of Omaha Action, the pacifist group involved in protests against building the missile base at the Nebraska Ordnance Plant.

Mrs. Swann said she would maintain a vigil at the plant gate and fast for 4 days to "do penance" for the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Hiroshima was bombed Aug. 6, 1945, and Nagasaki 3 days later.

Sidney To Host West Bar Group

Similar institutes were held earlier this week at Omaha, Norfolk and Kearney.

Speakers include former Gov. Robert B. Crosby of Lincoln; A. Lee Bloomingdale, professor of law at the Creighton School of Law at Omaha; Clarence A. H. Meyer of Lincoln, state deputy attorney general; and Herman Ginsburg of Lincoln.

Fairbury Couple Mark 70th Wedded Year

Lincoln Star Special

Fairbury, Neb. — A Jefferson County couple have been married for 70 years.

The Drakes were married near Thompson, July 28, 1889, and started housekeeping soon after in a house for which they paid $2 a month rent. Mr. Drake was employed as a farm hand and received $20 a month and dinner.

The longtime resident of the county, now 91, recalls, "We were fortunate in buying a 120 acre farm without any money, and you can't do that these days. We didn't have any wagon that first year and so borrowed our neighbor's wagon at night and shucked our corn by lantern light. I walked 10 miles to Fairbury many times in order to rest my team."

Mrs. Drake, 89, came with her folks in a covered wagon from Missouri. Her parents settled near Thompson and were neighbors to the Drakes who also came by covered wagon from Indiana. After they were married, the young bride stayed at her father-in-law's house until her husband was paid his monthly wage.

Retired In 1927

The Drakes did not care for this country when they were traveling through but they ran out of funds and so were forced to settle here. Mr. Drake, as a young man, little thought he would stay in Jefferson County for more than 70 years.

The couple retired from farming in 1927 and moved to Fairbury but still have the original 120 acres plus 160 more which they added to the original homestead.

The couple's two daughters, Mrs. Myrtle Church of Springfield, Ore., and Mrs. Neva Hamm of Hayward, Calif., could not be with them for their anniversary. They have 3 grandchildren, and 3 great great grandchildren.

Mrs. Drake keeps busy by doing all of her own housework in the large 7 room house where they live. Mr. Drake finds it difficult to get around but maintains a lively interest in the affairs of the community.

'60 Omaha Goal Up

WEAVER PUSHES PLAN TO FINANCE INTERSTATE

Washington (AP) — Rep. Phil Weaver (R-Neb.) Thursday urged adoption of his previously announced plan to keep Interstate Highway construction on schedule.

His plan would involve borrowing and longer payment period. The program's current financial emergency prompted Weaver to write to Rep. Gordon H. Scherer (R-Ohio), rank Republican on the House roads subcommittee. The subcommittee is considering means of keeping the program going.

"I am deeply disturbed by the possibility that this program which has held such bright promise might be doomed," Weaver wrote. "Its abandonment would result in a severe economic blow to the United States and to each of the several states which have entered in good faith into the program."

The House Ways and Means Committee has proposed, among other means of meeting the financial crisis, to extend the program four years beyond the present 1972 termination date.

But Weaver wrote that the "danger in lengthening the construction period of the present highway program lies in added pressures of inflation this would promulgate."

"However, if we could maintain the present construction schedules through borrowing—at adequate interest—while at the same time lengthening the payout period through extension of the gasoline and other use taxes we could accomplish the full construction program with adequate financing," he said.

Hearing Set On Wilcox-Kearney Phone Dispute

A hearing was set for Sept. 16 at Minden by the State Railway Commission on a complaint from the Wilcox Telephone Co. Wilcox against the Kearney County Dial Telephone Co., Hildreth.

The Wilcox company has charged that the Kearney County Company has invaded its territory by connecting a rural telephone in the area.

Consumers Public Power District, Columbus, was authorized to build a transmission line in Lancaster County and Loup Valleys Rural Public Power District, Ord, was authorized to build one in Garfield and Valley Counties. Omaha Public Power District was authorized to build one in Douglas County.

Ainsworth District Asks Court Delay

The Ainsworth Irrigation District filed a motion in Supreme Court asking it to delay action on a pending case involving the district until a water priority application is ruled upon.

State Water Resources Director Dan S. Jones Jr. has taken under advisement an application by the district for water rights from the Snake River.

Strong objection to the application developed at a three-day hearing here July 21-23 from some ranchers in the area who claim there will be water diversion.

Jones allowed the objectors until Aug. 15 to submit briefs and until Aug. 24 to complete a reply brief. The district has until Aug. 20 to submit its brief.

Pending before the Supreme Court is an appeal from a Brown County District Court ruling affirming a contract between the district and the federal government.

In its motion, which the district asked to be ruled upon by Sept. 21, the district asked the court not to consider the pending case until Jones rules on the water priority application.

Flames Destroy Rural Church

Clay Center, Neb. — A Clay County landmark has been destroyed by flames, believed caused by lightning.

The rural Evangelical United Brethern Church, located near Clay Center, burned to the ground. Built in 1885, the church probably will be rebuilt, according to A. A. Dedrickson, longtime member.

Dedrickson said two pews, a new piano and the pulpit were saved.

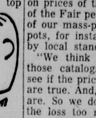
DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD

Everybody needs one of those sheep's-wool hats, I suppose. At least I think I need one. That is, the Russian hat that perches jauntily on top of your head. With earflaps.



It was about 90 degrees here in Moscow. We were in Red Square with its Kremlin walls and the gates where Napoleon retreated in the bitter winter snows. (I could have used a yard of snow right then.)

Behind the shady lime trees lies GUM, Moscow's great department store. Not like the department stores we know. But a glassed-over series of arcades, two stories high with little shops fronting on the middle walkway.

We had a girl guide from Intourist. A blonde girl named Katherine. She said the hats were on the second deck and we climbed some worn marble stairs to get to it.

The hat shop was open to the walk and was about two counters long.

Man, were they selling hats!

The hat shop was mobbed with Russians who all had the same idea I had. Namely, that this was the day to buy fur hats.

There were other shops—tie shops, dress shops, soap shops. They were getting no action. Everybody wanted a fur hat.

"Why do they want to buy fur hats, Katherine?"

"Because they are very warm in winter," she said.

"I know. But it is 90 degrees today. Why do they want them today?"

"So they will have them ready for winter."

"Look, Katherine. I know they are warm in winter. They are excellent hats and I want one, myself, for the cold winter. But these people are here all the time. Why don't they wait until later—maybe when it is only 70 degrees hot?"

"Because when winter comes everybody wants a hat and it might be difficult."

I figured right then there was no use arguing with a woman.

We edged through the crowd, which was going MAD trying on these fur hats.

We got hold of a hat and tried it on. Too big. We tried another. Too small. We asked Katherine to interpret and ask for a hat in between.

There were no hats in between. "Come back next week," said Katherine.

"Now, Katherine, you know we leave next week."

"Then come back next year," she said. Maybe that is why everybody is buying hats when the thermometer reads 90 degrees. They were here last year and have come back for a second try.

Katherine was with us at the fashion show at the American Exposition. It is a good fashion show. Good but not extremely high-priced dresses and suits.

The show is well-managed and has a certain bright staginess about it. It is a standing-room-only show. Russia is short on quantity-produced clothing. And the Russians are very curious about Western styles.

There is a high casualty rate in the book department of the Fair. People walk away with the books.

The most popular pickup might surprise you: The Sears Roebuck and the Montgomery Ward catalogs. They disappear as fast as they are put out.

Picture books and toys and camera equipment suffered a pretty good loss in those first two days when 140,000 people crammed themselves into the Fair in Sokolniki Park.

"We get a lot of questions on prices of things," said one of the Fair people. "The price of our mass-produced kitchen pots, for instance, seems low by local standards.

"We think people pick up those catalogs to check. To see if the prices we told them are true. And, of course, they are. So we don't really mind the loss too much."

Dial Phones In Use At Davenport

Telephone service at Davenport has been converted to the dial system, E. H. Wellman, area manager of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co., reported Thursday.

The new dial exchange will serve 249 telephones, he said. The improvement cost $50,000, and includes the dial switching equipment, new telephone exchange building, changing the instruments to the dial type and rebuilding the outside line and cable system.

Davenport is the 104th LT & T Exchange to be converted to the dial operation, Wellman said. The company also serves 21 manually operated exchanges.

Khrushchev's Visit To Iowa Should Turn Him Envy-Green

By Ovid A. Martin
Associated Press Farm Writer

Washington (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchev's scheduled visit to Iowa—that's where the tall corn grows—could be a real eye opener.

The rich agricultural areas of the midwest symbolize one one of this country's great strengths—and underscore one of Russia's great weaknesses.

Khrushchev has risen to power largely on the weaknesses of farm policies of his predecessors and on his efforts to boost soviet food production.

In pressing for a more productive agriculture, the Russian premier made this prediction:

Milk Torpedo

"We aren't going to blow up the capitalist world with bombs. If we overtake the United States in per capita production of meat, butter and milk, we shall have hit the pillars of the capitalist world with the most powerful torpedoes yet seen."

By this Khrushchev apparently meant that Soviet leaders could convince the world that communism with its industrial and agricultural accomplishment was superior to capitalism. He has set 1965 as a target date for matching and possibly passing U.S. food production on a per capita basis.

Right Place, Time

Certainly the Soviet leader picked the right area and the right time to get a view of U.S. might in food production.

He will see lush fields of high yielding corn—the backbone of the production of meat, butter and milk he desires so strongly. He is striving to copy American corn production, realizing that this is needed before he can provide the livestock products promised.

Khrushchev will see feed lots where the world's best beef cattle are fattened for slaughter or market. He will come at a time when U.S. cattle numbers are at a record peak.

He will see a hog production industry now at a peacetime record high.

He will find himself in the heart of one of the world's greatest dairy areas.

If these sights do not stir envy, the sight of a countryside dotted with thousands of glistening bins, filled with extra corn—referred to in this country as surplus—undoubtedly would make Khrushchev's eyes bug out.

He has made clear that Russia wants not only to produce more food for its people, but to stockpile food and feed grains for possible future emergencies and for use in promoting Soviet economic and political policies in other lands.

Above all, the Russian leader will visit among prosperous independent farmers—producers who will contrast sharply from those of his own land.

He will see an output per man that is many times greater than that of his own country.

Mechanization

Khrushchev will see mechanization in the harvesting of grains carried to the highest level in the world. He will see the latest results of research being applied in livestock rations that get the most possible in weight gain.

Undoubtedly, Khrushchev will be impressed by this country's farm productive potential, because he will witness firsthand efforts of the government and of individual farmers to hold down production because of the existence of surpluses.

In sum, he will see American agriculture moving under brakes at a time when Soviet agriculture is straining all its available power.

Omaha (28th, Dodge) Interchange Plan Is Approved On 15th Try

The functional plan of the 28th and Dodge Streets interchange of the Interstate in Omaha was approved Thursday by federal, state and city officials who had previously turned down 14 plans in an 18-month period.

The latest plan was presented to officials by Stanley Michael of Omaha, partner in the consulting engineering firm of Kirkham-Michael and Associates.

The plan was approved by Nebraska state Engineer Roy Cochran, Omaha Director of Public Works George Fisher, and U.S. Bureau of Public Roads engineers representing Albert Spann, engineer for the Nebraska district.

Complicated

The new functional plan covers an estimated 100 acres, and is the most complicated interchange in the Interstate system in Nebraska.

A straight line cutting anywhere across the interchange would intersect 10 to 15 different segments of highway.

Engineers said the plan still needed a few minor refinements, but it was agreed the interchange would provide the maximum benefit to both through traffic and local traffic from Omaha neighborhoods on all sides.

The interchange has been "squeezed up" into a smaller area than the last one, which was turned down last month.

The consulting firm will start immediately on more detailed plans which must be sent to the U.S. Bureau of Roads in Washington for approval. However, Michael indicated there is every reason to believe they will be approved.

Cochran said the next step will be to figure out what portion of the costs the city of Omaha will be required to pay. He said there is no set pattern in this procedure, but engineers must figure out which parts of the project are destined to serve the city's purposes more than those of the through-traffic users.

There is no estimate on the total cost of the project.

"We're glad to be in agreement," Cochran commented. "That's progress."

4.5-MILL COUNTY LEVY LIKELY TO BE SET TODAY

By Del Harding

The 1959-60 county mill levy is expected to be set at 4.5 by the County Board Friday.

This would be a .4 mill drop from the 1958-59 levy of 4.9 and would be the fourth straight year the county levy has been reduced.

Increased county assessed valuation ($213 million compared with $203 million last year) and decreasing costs of the county medical program are major factors permitting the levy cut.

No Medical Levy

Board Chairman Rollin Bailey announced Thursday that the county has sufficient funds on hand to meet its anticipated medical costs without having a special medical levy in 1959-60.

This will be the first year since the special levy was begun in 1953-54 that no levy will be required. The 1958-59 overall levy of 4.9 included a .253 medical levy.

Bailey said the proposed 1959-60 medical budget is $140,000 compared with $230,000 in funds on hand.

Committee Hailed

He credited recommendations of the county's medical advisory committee and increased federal aid for the steady reduction in county medical aid costs.

The medical fund was started in 1953 with $60,000 transferred from the inheritance tax fund and a .107 mill levy. In 1954 the levy was upped to .1822, the next year to .1858 and in 1956 reached a high of 2.04.

The special levy was cut to 1.25 in 1957 and then to the .253 levy last year with the institution of the new medical program.

State Fair Will Again Show Work Of 4-H, FFA Clubs

The 1959 Nebraska State Fair, Sept. 5-11 inclusive, will again spotlight thousands of Nebraska's 4-H Clubbers and Future Farmers of America in competition in phases of their regular club work.

LT&T Quarter Earnings Up

Earnings of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. for the quarter ending June 30 were $1.18 per share of common stock, compared with 99 cents for the like quarter of 1958. Earnings for 6 months were $2.13 per share compared with $1.63 a year ago.

For the 3 months ending June 30 net earnings were $380,021 and for the 12 months ending June 30, earnings totaled $1,294,028, the company's report to shareholders shows.

The company's executive committee has approved the issuance and sale of 30,000 shares of authorized and unissued preferred stock, which will be convertible into common stock of the company.

Subject to registration with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and final approval by the Board of Directors and the State Railway Commission, the company plans to offer these shares for subscription by common stockholders of the company in September on the basis of one share for each 9 shares of common stock held on the record date.

Two Weeks

LT&T officials said it is the present intention to fix a period of approximately two weeks after the record date during which rights to subscribe may be exercised or sold by the stockholders.

Installation of addressograph and IBM date processing equipment is proceeding on schedule, it was reported, with the balance of the equipment due about Oct. 1. Customer bills for all exchanges will then be issued under the new system. In June Beatrice customer bills were issued on a partial machine basis.

The Auburn exchange was converted to dial last month, being the fourth company installation of direct long distance dialing.

RAILROADS FILE TAX APPEALS

. . . Trio Protests

Three railroads filed notices of intent to appeal to the Supreme Court Thursday from State Board of Equalization action on their 1959 assessments.

Attorneys for the Union Pacific, Burlington, and Chicago-Northwestern railroads presented the notices to State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington who is also secretary of the State Board of Equalization.

The Union Pacific contends it was over-assessed by $19,398,245; the Burlington maintains its assessment was $14,122,938 too high, and Chicago-Northwestern contends its assessment was $3,343,555 more than it should have been.

J. W. Weingarten of Omaha, attorney for the Burlington railroad, said they hope to get a decision from the Supreme Court "around the first of the year or shortly thereafter."

Thursday's action marks the first time since 1923 that railroads have appealed their assessments to the state's high court.

Space Age Issues Continue Decline

New York (AP) — Space age issues continued to decline Thursday while the overall stock market closed irregular.

Gains by utilities and an assortment of selected industrials were enough to give The Associated Press average an edge to the upside even though more stocks fell than rose in the list as a whole.

Late gains by the major steelmakers also brightened the picture. Rails backed down from an early advance and declined on average. Motors also were mostly lower as they erased a solid array of small early gains.

The firming tendency that developed Wednesday and arrested a sharp decline was apparent from the start when the mixed price pattern was established.

Most key stocks showed gains or losses running from fractions to about a point. Losses among space age issues went to 4 points or so.

The Dow Jones industrial average dropped .35 to 671.98.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 10 cents to $234.40 with the industrials down 10 cents, the rails down 40 cents and the utilities up 50 cents.

Of 1,204 issues traded, 533 declined and 429 advanced. There were 23 new highs for the year and 18 new lows.

Volume was 2,610,000 shares compared with 2,630,000 Wednesday.

Eight of the 15 most active stocks declined, six advanced and one was unchanged, Avco.

Corporate bonds were higher on average in dull trading. U.S. government bonds rose in fairly active dealings.

Bond sales totaled $5,390,000 par value compared with $5,590,000 Wednesday.

New Plan Is Offered To Continue Superhighway

. . . By House Public Works Committee

Washington (AP) — The House Public Works Committee voted Thursday for a plan to continue construction of the interstate highway system at about the present rate for the next 13 years.

However, it rejected the only financing device that the House Ways and Means Committee has come up with, and money troubles remained a problem.

The Ways and Means group proposed a special billion dollar bond issue to be retired by revenue from the excise tax on new automobiles.

Byrd Raps Bond Plan

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) also criticized the bond plan Thursday. Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said in a statement:

"Bond issue financing for such a highway system is unrealistic because mileage and construction costs constantly increase, and invariably the time is hard to find when it is convenient to use available funds for redeeming the bonds.

"The result is that the debt plus interest continue indefinitely."

The difficulty springs from a speedup voted by Congress last year to fight the recession. The pay-as-you-go principle was laid aside for one year to permit construction exceeding the programmed rate.

As a result, the construction trust fund is expected to be half a billion dollars short next June and 1½ billion shy over the next 3 years.

Gas Tax Hike Rejected

President Eisenhower asked that the needed extra money be raised by lifting the federal gasoline tax from 3 to 4½ cents a gallon. The House Ways and Means Committee rejected this, and lesser increases also.

The Ways and Means group did approve — and this was what the Public Works Committee rejected today — a bond financing plan, plus a stretchout of the work and a slowdown of the program.

Public Works members voted to keep construction going at the rate of $2,200,000,000 a year through fiscal year 1972. It would be $1,885,000,000 the following, and last, year of the program.

Rep. Phil Weaver (R-Neb) is urging adoption of his plan to finance Interstate Highway construction. See story on Page 20.

Scattered rain is on tap for Friday over the lower lakes and the Ohio and Tennessee Valleys, central and southern Rockies, southern Plateau and middle Mississippi Valley. It should be somewhat warmer over the northeast; cooler over the Lakes area and Ohio Valley; and continued hot over the central and southern Plains. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Mental Patient--Not Cured--Kills 2

. . . Fires Shotgun Into Crowded Dining Room

Philadelphia (AP)—A former mental patient released from a hospital as not cured, but not showing homicidal tendencies, killed two men and wounded 5, Thursday with volleys of shotgun fire into the crowded dining room of a home for the aged.

The killer was Kyrlo Czupirczuk, 55, an immigrant handyman. He exchanged hundreds of shots with police and terrorized the crowded neighborhood before he was wounded and captured in his apartment.

He spoke little English and police could learn little from him of the reason for his outbreak.

"I shoot Communists. I don't shoot police," he told them. "Police shot me. Communists radiate me. They bother me."

About 150 residents of the Uptown Home for the aged, a private institution, were having breakfast when Czupirczuk walked out the side door of his apartment building and stopped on a porch.

Across a narrow yard big French side doors leading to the dining room were open. Kalman Galer, 79, one of those killed was sitting on the patio near the door, resting after breakfast.

The others were still eating. Czupirczuk began shooting.

The other man killed was Michael Berman, 84. Wounded were Samuel Kluger, 74; Barney Kline, 76; Abraham Yusem, 85, William Narrow, 80, and Pincus Kalter, 77.

It was Czupirczuk's concern with the Communists and the radioactivity he feared they were generating around his house that led to his committment in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Washington.

He wrote to President Eisenhower of his fears and even went to Washington, where he was arrested by Secret Service agents in January.

"He was not cured," said Dr. Manson B. Pettit, clinical director of the hospital. "But he showed no homicidal tendencies when he was released in May."

Another 'Anonymous'

London (AP) — Divorcees Anonymous, an organization to aid victims of broken marriages, was unveiled here Thursday. A Church of England publication, the Church Times, said the group was set up within the church to offer solace to marriage partners involved in divorce actions. The full name of the new group is "The Company of Compassion."

Storm Sewer Plans Eyed

Omaha (AP) — Omaha prepared Thursday to declare an emergency and borrow money with which to build critically needed storm sewers.

Five of the 7 city councilmen present at a hastily called meeting gave informal approval to a program including:

—Immediate issuance of emergency notes totaling $733,000 for construction of storm sewers.

—Submission of a storm sewer bond issue to voters next spring. The issue would total at least $1,250,000.

—Use of $250,000 in Omaha improvement commission money in 1960 for additional storm sewer construction.

City Attorney Herbert Fitle said the amount borrowed could be added to the spring bond issue. Proceeds would retire the entire debt. But if the bonds were rejected by voters, the city would have to raise taxes to pay off the notes in 1961.

Queen On Vacation

London (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II went off on her summer vacation Thursday night with 3 Welsh Corgi dogs, her handsome husband and her two children. A cheering crowd saw them aboard the royal train heading for Balmoral Castle in the Scottish highlands. The queen was smiling and looked far from exhausted after her Canadian tour.

Gering Valley Conservation Group Files

Scottsbluff, Neb. (AP) — The Gering Valley Conservation District filed petitions Thursday with the Scotts Bluff County Soil and Water Conservancy District as the first step toward organization.

The county group will now set a hearing on the Gering district application, signed by 1,023 persons representing 95 per cent of the taxpayers in the proposed district. It would be a flood prevention project.

PREMIERES FOR 3 AMERICAN COMPOSERS GIVEN AT ASPEN

By W. Earl Dyer, Jr.

Aspen, Colo.—Premieres of works of 3 American composers are being featured here as part of the second annual Conference on American Music, a part of the Aspen music festival.

The works are "Joys of Life Suite" by Darius Milhaud, a cantata, "The Seasons", by Charles Jones, and two works, a violin concerto and "New England Triptych," by William Schuman. All three of the composers are attending the conference and taking part in discussions of American Music.

Milhaud, a major composer of international fame, conducted the "Joys Of Life Suite" despite crippling arthritis which made it necessary for him to use two canes to get to the podium. The suite proved to be an impressionistic piece, evocative of scenes of nature, in which the composer has used some of the dissonances and unusual rhythms of the modern idiom, but without alienating the more conservative listeners. During the concert Milhaud also conducted two other of his works—the Concerto for Violin and Flute and the Cello Concerto No. 1.

The cantata by Jones, a Juilliard School of music faculty member whose works have been performed by leading orchestras both in the United States and in Europe, was heard Wednesday.

The two Schuman works will be performed Sunday, August 9. Schuman, a well-known composer and educator, is now president of the Juilliard School of Music.

Milhaud and Jones opened the American Music Conference last week with a discussion of some of the composers Milhaud has known, and performance by Aspen festival artists and students of several twentieth century American works and of a quartet written by Benjamin Franklin. Critic Alfred Frankstein joined the two composers for the second in the series of discussions, a session devoted to 18th and 19th century American composers.

Also on the schedule of the Conference, besides the premieres and the performance at festival concerts of a number of other American works, are discussion-recital sessions on the works of Charles Ives and on the music of Schuman.

ONLY DAILY NEWSPAPERS SELL SOFT DRINKS FROM BOTTLER TO BUYER

THIS YEAR more than 35,000,000,000 bottles of soft drinks will be sold in the U.S. and Canada. The amount spent for this sea of soft drinks will be well over $1,500,000,000!

Daily newspapers play a sparkling role in the steady growth of this billion dollar business. National soft drink companies find the daily newspaper's flexibility uniquely helpful in adjusting their advertising to regional and seasonal sales differences.

Local bottlers and retailers of soft drinks depend on the daily newspaper to reach the most consumers in their market. Last year local advertisers, including retailers of soft drinks, spent $2⅓ billion in newspapers—six times more than radio; nine times more than in TV. Every day people buy 58,000,000 copies.

If you want to quench your thirst for sales, use the Total Selling daily newspaper. It sells products nationally and locally—all the way to the consumer.

Which Wonder Drug?—Little Kit Will Tell

Knoxville, Tenn. (AP) — Suppose a mysterious infection has you down and the doctor isn't sure what's wrong. Maybe one of the wonder drugs will help.

The doctor will take a newly developed testing kit in his own office to find out quickly just the wonder drug, or antibiotic, to get you back on your feet.

Take another example: An epidemic spreads through your child's school and your doctor has never before come across anything like it. That testing kit again may show him which antibiotic to use.

In neither case will the kit show the doctor what is wrong, but both times it should show him what to do. Each test may take as little as 30 minutes, and the doctor will need no medical laboratory or trained technicians.

The testing kit, called a sensitivity test, was developed by a young Knoxville bacteriologist. It is expected to be available to all doctors in the country by Christmas.

Sensitivity tests go hand-in-hand with antibiotics. This is because bacteria build up immunities to penicillin, aueromycin and other antibiotics, just as your own system builds up immunities to the germs themselves.

James R. Brown, bacteriologist at East Tennessee Children's Hospital, developed the new testing method when he became impatient with the time and expense of present, more complicated methods. Helping him were Dr. John M. Woodward and Dr. Raymond Beck, both of Knoxville.

The test will work with any infection which can be treated with known antibiotics and from which specimens can be obtained.

Brown's new weapon gets results in 30 minutes to 6 hours, compared with 24 to 36 hours now needed with laboratory-type tests, which require special skills to use.

Brown, 30-year-old father of two, said a Miami firm hopes to have his test on the wholesale medical supply market by the end of the year.

Basically, it works like this:

How It Works

In a transparent plastic case, the size of a box of candy-coated chewing gum, are placed paper discs—available in bottles like aspirin—which have been soaked in solutions of various antibiotics.

Specimens of the infection to be treated are placed on the discs, each of which represents a different antibiotic.

In solution with the antibiotics on the discs are a glucose-protein compound and a chemical known as TTC (triphenotetrozoleumchlor i d e). The glucose compound provides food for the infection-causing germs.

Red Or White

If the antibiotic kills the disc remains white. But if the antibiotic is ineffective, the germs digest the glucose—and as they do, the TTC turns the disc red. The doctor needs to know only which disc represents which antibiotic, and he's ready to start treatment.

"With this test," Brown said, "it would be just as easy to do a sensitivity test as it would to do a blood count, and this is done in all doctors' offices everywhere."

Office Sought For Selective Service Here

Invitations for bids have been issued by the Federal Government for space for the location of the Nebraska State Headquarters of Selective Service System somewhere within the area between P and H Streets north and south and 17th and 10th east and west.

According to Thomas G. Jay, regional commissioner of the General Services Administration, the date of possession will be Jan. 1, 1960, and the term of lease will run to Dec. 1962, non-cancellable.

The Nebraska Selective Service System headquarters is now located at 312 Veterans Building.

Wilcoxes Plan 1st Reunion In Several Years

For the first time in several years, the children of Mrs. Ruth Wilcox of 1308 So. 23rd, will be united for 10 days at the home of their mother in Lincoln.

George Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. James Harms (Ardath Wilcox) and son, Stephen, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Allen (Virginia Wilcox), are looking forward to meeting and visiting with as many of their friends as possible.

Douglas Wilcox, a scientist with the Navy Geodetic Survey in the Pacific will be the only absent member.

Various areas of the world are well-represented in the family, and travelogues will hold a high place on the 10 days' agenda.

George returned recently from Africa where he spent 5 years as Area Manager of an oil company in the Belgium Congo and Nigeria.

The Harms reside in Guatemala City, Guatemala, where Harms is a geologist and the Allen's, the only United States residents, will be coming from Ft. Worth, Tex.

Nigerian Slashes U.S. Exhibit Photos

Moscow (AP)—A medical student from Nigeria has been arrested by Soviet police for slashing four photographs in the U.S. exhibition.

The Nigerian was arrested after he cut up pictures from the photographic series, "Family of Man," of which he clearly disapproved.

One picture showed an African dance. Another was a large tatooed face. A third was a hunter holding up a deer. The fourth showed African lips drinking water from a gourd.

Exhibition officials said an effort will be made to restore them.
